

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. From Messrs. Weekes and Co., for No. 268.

RUGBY was the first Public School to have a Hymnal of its own. This was published in 1824, during the Headmastership of Dr. Wooll. It contains 38 "Psalms, Anthems, and Hymns," but of these only four are hymns in the ordinary sense of the word: one for Easter, "Iesus Christ is risen to-day"; one for Whitsuntide, Bishop Cosin's paraphrase of the "Veni Creator"; and Bishop Ken's Morning and Evening Hymns. A second edition appeared in 1843, when Dr. Tait was Headmaster: it has 18 Psalms and 56 Hymns, the words of the "Sanctus," and 11 Anthems. In this issue we find for the first time the Meeting and Parting Hymns of the Rev. H. J. Buckoll (who was a Master at the School from 1826 to 1871), and his Hymns for Founder's Day and for the Sunday nearest to June 12, the anniversary of Dr. Arnold's death. A third edition came out in 1850: it contained 19 versions of the Psalms and 68 Hymns. Another, still further enlarged, appeared in In the preparation of this the Headmaster, Dr. Goulburn, had the assistance of Mr. Buckoll and Mr. (afterwards Archbishop) Benson. It was reissued, with tunes, in 1859. In the edition of 1876, when Dr. Jex-Blake was Headmaster, the number of Psalms and Hymns reached 339. The sixth edition, (1897), like the present, owed much to Canon Julian's Dictionary of Hymnology': it contained 360 Hymns.

I have to thank authors and proprietors of copyright (among the latter the proprietors of 'Hymns Ancient and Modern') for permission to include various hymns in this collection. Only in one or two cases, where I could not discover the owners of copyright, have I assumed a permission which I had no reason to suppose would be refused.

HYMNS AND TUNES.

MORNING HYMN.

1. Awake, my soul, and with the sun
2. All praise to Thee, who safe hast kept,

1.

AWAKE, my soul, and with the sun Thy daily stage of duty run; Shake off dull sloth, and joyful rise To pay thy morning sacrifice.

Thy precious time, mis-spent, redeem; Each present day thy last esteem: Improve thy talent with due care; For the great day thyself prepare.

Let all thy converse be sincere, Thy conscience as the noonday clear: Think how all-seeing God thy ways And all thy secret thoughts surveys.

Wake, and lift up thyself, my heart, And with the angels bear thy part, Who, all night long, unwearied sing High praise to the eternal King.

I wake, I wake, ye heavenly choir; May your devotion me inspire; That I like you my age may spend, Like you may on my God attend.

May I like you in God delight, Have, all day long, my God in sight; Perform like you my Maker's will: O may I never more do ill!

BISHOP KEN, 1692 (recast 1709).

2

ALL praise to Thee, who safe hast kept, And hast refreshed me while I slept: Grant, Lord, when I from death shall wake, I may of endless light partake.

Lord, I my vows to Thee renew:
Disperse my sins as morning dew,
Guard my first springs of thought and will,
And with Thyself my spirit fill.

Shine on me, Lord, new life impart, Fresh ardours kindle in my heart:
One ray of Thy all-quickening light
Dispels the sloth and clouds of night.

Direct, control, suggest, this day, All I design, or do, or say; That all my powers, with all their might, In Thy sole glory may unite.

Praise God, from whom all blessings flow; Praise Him, all creatures here below; Praise Him above, ye heavenly host; Praise Father, Son, and Holy Ghost.

BISHOP KEN, 1692 (recast 1709).

MORNING HYMN.

1. Awake, my soul, and with the sun
2. All praise to Thee, who safe hast hept,

F. H. BARTHELEMON.

3.

WALTON.

O timely happy, timely wise,

L.M.

L. VAN BEETHOVEN.

. Morning.

3.

O TIMELY happy, timely wise, Hearts that with rising morn arise! Eyes that the beam celestial view, Which evermore makes all things new!

New every morning is the love Our wakening and uprising prove; Through sleep and darkness safely brought, Restored to life and power and thought.

New mercies each returning day
Hover around us while we pray;
New perils past, new sins forgiven,
New thoughts of God, new hopes of heaven.

If on our daily course our mind Be set to hallow all we find, New treasures still of countless price God will provide for sacrifice.

The trivial round, the common task, Will furnish all we ought to ask, Room to deny ourselves, a road To bring us daily nearer God.

Only, O Lord, in Thy dear love Fit us for perfect rest above; And help us this and every day To live more nearly as we pray.

JOHN KEBLE, 1822.

4.

COME, thou bright and morning Star,
Light of Light, without beginning,
Shine upon us from afar,
That we may be kept from sinning;
Drive away by Thy clear light
Our dark night.

Let Thy grace, like morning dew
Falling upon barren places,
Comfort, quicken, and renew
Our dry souls and dying graces;
Bless Thy flock from Thy rich store
Evermore.

May Thy fervent love destroy
Our cold works, in us awaking
Ardent zeal, and holy joy,
At the purple morn's first breaking;
Let us truly rise, ere yet
Life has set.

Light us to the heavenly spheres,
Sun of grace, in glory shrouded;
Lead us through this vale of tears,
To the land where days unclouded,
Purest joy, and perfect peace,
Never cease.

RICHARD MASSIE, 1857, from the German of BARON VON ROSENBOTH, 1684.

MATINATA.

Come, thou bright and morning Star,

78.78.73.

E. EDWARDS.

ST. BERNARD.

O Jesu, Lord of heavenly grace,

L.M.

W. H. MONK.

5.

O JESU, Lord of heavenly grace, Thou Brightness of Thy Father's face, Thou Fountain of eternal light, Whose beams disperse the shades of night;

Come, holy Sun of heavenly love, Shower down Thy radiance from above, And to our inward hearts convey The Holy Spirit's cloudless ray.

All-hallowed be this new-born day; Let meekness be our morning ray, And faithful love our noonday light, And hope our sunset, calm and bright.

O Christ, with each returning morn, Thine image to our hearts is borne: O may we ever clearly see Our Saviour and our God in Thee.

> JOHN CHANDLER, 1887 (with variations by H. J. BUCKOLL, 1857), from the Latin of St. Ambrose, d. 397.

LO! the golden light is peering; Let the dimness fleet away, Which so long hath kept us veering From the narrow path astray.

May the morn, sweet calmness breathing, Keep us morn-like, chaste and pure, In our lips no falsehood sheathing, In our hearts no sin obscure.

So the day, all smoothly gliding,
May preserve our tongue from guile,
Eyes from wandering, feet from sliding,
Hands from aught that can defile.

All day long an eye is o'er us,
Which our every secret knows,
Sees our every step before us,
From first morn till evening's close.

To the Father praise unending,
To the Son and Spirit blest,
Still from age to age ascending,
Be throughout all worlds addressed.

7.

FORTH in Thy name, O Lord, I go, My daily labour to pursue, Thee, only Thee, resolved to know In all I think, or speak, or do.

The task Thy wisdom hath assigned
O let me cheerfully fulfil;
In all my works Thy presence find,
And prove Thy good and perfect will.

Thee may I set at my right hand,
Whose eyes mine inmost substance see,
And labour on at Thy command,
And offer all my works to Thee.

Give me to bear Thy easy yoke,
And every moment watch and pray,
And still to things eternal look,
And hasten to Thy glorious day;

For Thee delightfully employ
Whate'er Thy bounteous grace hath given,
And run my course with even joy,
And closely walk with Thee to heaven.

CHARLES WESLEY, 1749.

8.

COME, my soul, thou must be waking:
Now is breaking
O'er the earth another day:
Come to Him who made this splendour;
See thou render
All thy feeble strength can pay.

Gladly hail the light returning:
Ready burning
Be the incense of thy powers:
For the night is safely ended:
God hath tended
With His care thy helpless hours.

Pray that He may prosper ever
Each endeavour,
When thine aim is good and true;
But that He may ever thwart thee,
And convert thee,
When thou evil wouldst pursue.

Think that He thy ways beholdeth—
He unfoldeth
Every fault that lurks within;
Every stain of shame glossed over
Can discover,
And discern each deed of sin.

Therefore God's free gifts abuse not,
Light refuse not,
But His Spirit's voice obey:
Soon shall joy thy brow be wreathing,
Splendour breathing,
Fairer than the fairest day.

HENRY J. BUCKOLL, 1842, from the German of Baron von Campus, 1700 (based upon an earlier anonymous translation, 1838).

SHINE on our souls, eternal God, With rays of beauty shine; O let Thy favour crown our days, And all their round be Thine.

Did we not raise our hands to Thee, Our hands might toil in vain; Small joy success itself can give, If Thou Thy love restrain.

With Thee let every day begin,
With Thee each day be spent;
For Thee each fleeting hour improved,
Since each by Thee is lent.

Thus cheer us through this desert road,
Till all our labours cease,
And Heaven refresh our weary souls
With everlasting peace.

NOW that the daylight fills the sky, We lift our hearts to God on high, That He, in all we do or say, Would keep us free from harm to-day;

Would guard our hearts and tongues from strife; Would shield from anger's din our life; From all ill sights would turn our eyes, And close our ears from vanities.

So we, when this new day is gone And shades of night are drawing on, With conscience by the world unstained Shall praise His name for victory gained.

Translation of the preceding, by John Mason Neale, 1852.

12.

IN the morning hear my voice; Let me in Thy light rejoice; God, my Sun, my strength renew, Send Thy blessing down like dew.

Through the duties of the day, Grant me grace to watch and pray, Live as always seeing Thee, Knowing "Thou, God, seest me."

When the evening skies display Richer pomp than noon's array, Be the shades of death to me Bright with immortality.

When the round of care is run, And the stars succeed the sun, Songs of praise with prayer unite, Crown the day, and hail the night.

Thus with Thee, my God, my Friend, Time begin, continue, end, While life's joys and sorrows pass, Like the changes of the grass.

CHRIST, whose glory fills the skies, Christ, the true, the only Light, Sun of righteousness, arise, Triumph o'er the shades of night; Dayspring from on high, be near, Daystar, in my heart appear.

Dark and cheerless is the morn
Unaccompanied by Thee;
Joyless is the day's return,
Till Thy mercy's beams I see,
Till they inward light impart,
Glad my eyes, and warm my heart.

Visit then this soul of mine;
Pierce the gloom of sin and grief;
Fill me, Radiancy divine;
Scatter all my unbelief;
More and more Thyself display,
Shining to the perfect day.

LORD, Thy children guide and keep,
As with feeble steps they press
On the pathway rough and steep
Through this weary wilderness.
Holy Jesu, day by day
Lead us in the narrow way.

There are stony paths to tread;
Give the strength we sorely lack:
There are tangled paths to thread;
Light us, lest we miss the track.
Holy Jesu, day by day
Lead us in the narrow way.

There are sandy wastes that lie
Cold and sunless, vast and drear,
Where the feeble faint and die;
Grant us grace to persevere.
Holy Jesu, day by day
Lead us in the narrow way.

There are soft and flowery glades,
Decked with golden-fruited trees;
Sunny slopes, and scented shades;
Keep us, Lord, from slothful ease.
Holy Jesu, day by day
Lead us in the narrow way.

Upward still to purer heights,
Onward yet to scenes more blest,
Calmer regions, clearer lights,
Till we reach the promised rest.
Holy Jesu, day by day
Lead us in the narrow way.

Another day of fear!

For watchful is our foe;

And sin is strong, and death is near,

And short our time below.

Another day of hope!
For Thou art with us still;

AT Thy feet, O Christ, we lay Thine own gift of this new day; Doubt of what it holds in store Makes us crave Thine aid the more: Lest it prove a time of loss, Mark it, Saviour, with Thy cross.

If it flow on calm and bright, Be Thyself our chief delight; If it bring unknown distress, Good is all that Thou canst bless; Only, while its hours begin, Pray we, keep them clear of sin.

We in part our weakness know, And in part discern our foe; Well for us, before Thine eyes All our danger open lies; Turn not from us, while we plead Thy compassions and our need.

Fain would we Thy word embrace, Live each moment in Thy grace, All ourselves to Thee consign, Fold up all our wills in Thine, Think, and speak, and do, and be Simply that which pleases Thee.

Hear us, Lord, and that right soon; Hear, and grant the choicest boon That Thy love can e'er impart, Loyal singleness of heart; So shall this and all our days, Christ our God, show forth Thy praise.

YE that have spent the silent night
In sleep and quiet rest,
And joy to see the cheerful light
That riseth in the east,
Now lift your hearts, your voices raise,
Your morning tribute bring,
And pay a grateful song of praise
To heaven's Almighty King.

And as this gloomy night did last
But for a little space;
As heavenly day, now night is past,
Doth show his pleasant face;
So let us hope, when faith and love
Their work on earth have done,
God's blessèd face to see above,
Heaven's better, brighter Sun.

God grant us grace that height to gain,
That glorious sight to see,
And send us, after worldly pain,
A life from trouble free,
Where cheerful day shall ever shine,
And sorrow never come:
Lord, be a place, a portion mine,
In that bright blissful home.

GEORGE GASCOIGNE, d. 1577.

BEHOLD us, Lord, a little space From daily tasks set free, And met within Thy holy place To rest awhile with Thee.

Yet these are not the only walls
Wherein Thou mayst be sought;
On homeliest work Thy blessing falls,
In truth and patience wrought.

Thine is the loom, the forge, the mart,
The wealth of land and sea,
The worlds of science and of art,
Revealed and ruled by Thee.

Then let us prove our heavenly birth In all we do and know, And claim the kingdom of the earth For Thee, and not Thy foe.

Work shall be prayer, if all be wrought As Thou wouldst have it done, And prayer, by Thee inspired and taught, Itself with work be one.

O FATHER, hear my morning prayer, Thine aid impart to me, That I may make my life to-day Acceptable to Thee.

May this desire my spirit rule, And, as the moments fly, Something of good be born in me, Something of evil die;

Some grace, that seeks my heart to win, With shining victory meet; Some sin, that strives for mastery, Find overthrow complete:

That so throughout the coming day
The hours may carry me
A little farther from the world,
A little nearer Thee.

F. A. PERCY.

22.

GLORY to Thee, my God, this night For all the blessings of the light! Keep me, O keep me, King of kings, Beneath Thine own almighty wings.

Forgive me, Lord, for Thy dear Son, The ill that I this day have done; That with the world, myself, and Thee, I, ere I sleep, at peace may be.

Teach me to live, that I may dread The grave as little as my bed; To die, that this vile body may Rise glorious at the awful day.

O may my soul on Thee repose, And may sweet sleep mine eyelids close, Sleep, that may me more vigorous make To serve my God when I awake.

When in the night I sleepless lie,
My soul with heavenly thoughts supply:
Let no ill dreams disturb my rest,
No powers of darkness me molest.

Praise God, from whom all blessings flow: Praise Him, all creatures here below; Praise Him above, ye heavenly host; Praise Father, Son, and Holy Ghost.

ABIDE with me: fast falls the eventide; The darkness deepens; Lord, with me abide: When other helpers fail, and comforts flee, Help of the helpless, O abide with me.

Swift to its close ebbs out life's little day; Earth's joys grow dim, its glories pass away; Change and decay in all around I see; O Thou who changest not, abide with me.

I need Thy presence every passing hour; What but Thy grace can foil the tempter's power? Who like Thyself my guide and stay can be? Through cloud and sunshine, Lord, abide with me.

I fear no foe with Thee at hand to bless; Ills have no weight, and tears no bitterness: Where is death's sting? where, grave, thy victory? I triumph still, if Thou abide with me.

Hold Thou Thy cross before my closing eyes: Shine through the gloom, and point me to the skies; Heaven's morning breaks and earth's vain shadows flee: In life, in death, O Lord, abide with me.

HENRY FRANCIS LYTE, 1847.

SWEET Saviour, bless us ere we go;
Thy word into our minds instil,
And make our lukewarm hearts to glow
With lowly love and fervent will.
Through life's long day and death's dark night,

The day is gone, its hours have run,
And Thou hast taken count of all,
The scanty triumphs grace hath won,
The broken vow, the frequent fall.
Through life's long day and death's dark night,
O gentle Jesus, be our Light.

Grant us, dear Lord, from evil ways
True absolution and release,
And bless us, more than in past days,
With purity and inward peace.
Through life's long day and death's dark night,
O gentle Jesus, be our Light.

Do more than pardon; give us joy,
Sweet fear, and sober liberty,
And simple hearts without alloy
That only long to be like Thee.
Through life's long day and death's dark night,
O gentle Jesus, be our Light.

For all we love, the poor, the sad,
The sinful, unto Thee we call:
O let Thy mercy make us glad:
Thou art our Jesus, and our All.

AT even, ere the sun was set,
The sick, O Lord, around Thee lay;
O in what divers pains they met!
O with what joy they went away!

Once more 'tis eventide, and we Oppressed with various ills draw near: What if Thy form we cannot see? We know and feel that Thou art here.

O Saviour Christ, our woes dispel;
For some are sick, and some are sad,
And some have never loved Thee well,
And some have lost the love they had;

And some have found the world is vain,
Yet from the world they break not free;
And some have friends who give them pain,
Yet have not sought a friend in Thee;

And none, O Lord, have perfect rest, For none are wholly free from sin; And they, who fain would serve Thee best, Are conscious most of wrong within.

O Saviour Christ, Thou too art Man; Thou hast been troubled, tempted, tried; Thy kind but searching glance can scan The very wounds that shame would hide;

Thy touch has still its ancient power;
No word from Thee can fruitless fall;
Hear in this solemn evening hour,
And in Thy mercy heal us all.

HENRY TWELLS, 1868.

THE day is past and over;
All thanks, O Lord, to Thee!
I pray Thee now that sinless
The hours of dark may be:
O Jesu, keep me in Thy sight,
And guard me through the coming night.

The joys of day are over;
I lift my heart to Thee,
And ask Thee that offenceless
The hours of dark may be:
O Jesu, keep me in Thy sight,
And guard me through the coming night.

The toils of day are over;
I raise the hymn to Thee,
And ask that free from peril
The hours of dark may be:
O Jesu, keep me in Thy sight,
And guard me through the coming night.

Be Thou my soul's Preserver,
For Thou alone dost know
How many are the perils
Through which I have to go:
O loving Jesu, hear my call,
And guard and save me from them all.

THE sun is sinking fast, The daylight dies; Let love awake, and pay Her evening sacrifice.

As Christ upon the cross
His head inclined,
And to His Father's hands
His parting soul resigned;

So now herself my soul Would wholly give Into His sacred charge, In whom all spirits live;

So now beneath His eye
Would calmly rest,
Without a wish or thought
Abiding in the breast,

Save that His will be done, Whate'er betide; Dead to herself, and dead In Him to all beside.

Thus would I live; yet now Not I, but He In all His power and love Henceforth alive in me.

One sacred Trinity,
One Lord divine,
May I be ever His,
And He for ever mine.

Translated by E. Caswall, 1858, from a Latin Hymn, perhaps of the 18th century.

30

SUN of my soul, Thou Saviour dear, It is not night, if Thou be near: O may no earth-born cloud arise, To hide Thee from Thy servant's eyes.

When the soft dews of kindly sleep My wearied eyelids gently steep, Be my last thought, how sweet to rest For ever on my Saviour's breast.

Abide with me from morn till eve, For without Thee I cannot live: Abide with me when night is nigh, For without Thee I dare not die.

If some poor wandering child of Thine Have spurned to-day the voice divine, Now, Lord, the gracious work begin; Let him no more lie down in sin.

Watch by the sick; enrich the poor With blessings from Thy boundless store: Be every mourner's sleep to-night, Like infant's slumbers, pure and light.

Come near and bless us when we wake, Ere through the world our way we take; Till in the ocean of Thy love We lose ourselves in heaven above.

O God, our Light, to Thee we bow; Within all shadows standest Thou; Give deeper calm than night can bring; Give sweeter songs than lips can sing.

Life's tumult we must meet again; We cannot at the shrine remain; But in the spirit's secret cell May hymn and prayer for ever dwell.

NOW at the night's return we raise To Thee, our King, the voice of praise; And may our prayer, set forth aright, Ascend like incense in Thy sight.

Earth lay in darkness, Lord, when Thou Thine own bright heaven for us didst bow, And camest down to save the lost From such a doom, at such a cost.

So now on us in mercy shine,
O Judge most awful, most benign,
To whom in faith we bend the knee
And look for help to none but Thee.

O'er all that stains our lifetime past
The veil of Thy forgiveness cast;
Yea, cleanse our spirits through and through,
And set us right and keep us true.

Bless Thou the distant and the dear; Let each to each in Thee draw near, Still travelling towards our home above, And leaning still on one strong Love.

To Thee, O Christ, we lift our eyes, On Thee alone our hope relies; Thou wilt not, canst not bring to shame The hope that pleads Thy glorious name.

Vide-Public School Hymn Book, No. 80.

Evening.

39.

THE day Thou gavest, Lord, is ended, The darkness falls at Thy behest; To Thee our morning hymns ascended, Thy praise shall hallow now our rest.

We thank Thee that Thy church unsleeping, While earth rolls onward into light, Through all the world her watch is keeping, And rests not now by day or night.

As o'er each continent and island
The dawn leads on another day,
The voice of prayer is never silent,
Nor dies the strain of praise away.

The sun, that bids us rest, is waking Our brethren 'neath the western sky, And hour by hour fresh lips are making Thy wondrous doings heard on high.

So be it, Lord; Thy throne shall never, Like earth's proud empires, pass away, But stand and rule and grow for ever, Till all Thy creatures own Thy sway.

J. ELLERTON, 1870.

Evening.

40.

THE splendours of Thy glory, Lord, Hath no man seen nor known, And highest angels veil their eyes Before Thy shining throne.

Here we in darkness sit forlorn;
Death's shade upon us lies;
But night will wane, and o'er our heads
The eternal dayspring rise.

So bright a day for us prepared For us Thou hast in store, That this all-glorious sun shall fade Its sevenfold light before.

But ah! too long thou lingerest, Thou long-expected day, And ere we see thee, we must cast This mortal coil away.

But when her bonds are rent, my God, My soul to Thee shall soar, And see Thy face, and praise Thee well, And love Thee evermore.

Grant us Thy peace, blest Trinity, Fair love and saintly might; And for this dim and fleeting day Give us immortal light.

41.

MORN of morns, and day of days! Silent as the morning rays, From the sepulchre's dark prison Christ, the Light of lights, hath risen.

He commanded, and His word Death and the dread chaos heard: We, O shame, more deaf than they, In the chains of darkness stay.

Lord, to hearts in slumber weak Let the heavenly trumpet speak; And, like lights of early morn, New ways mark the newly-born.

Grant us this, and with us be, Fountain of all charity, Thou who dost the Spirit give, Bidding the dead letter live.

Equal praise to Father, Son, And to Thee, the Holy One, By whose quickening breath divine Our dull spirits burn and shine.

Translation by Isaac Williams, 1837, of a Latin Hymn by Charles Coffin, 1786.

Sunday Morning.

42

THE dawn of God's new Sabbath
Breaks o'er the earth again,
As some sweet summer morning
After a night of pain:
It comes as cooling showers
To cheer a thirsty land,
As shades of clustered palm-trees
'Mid weary wastes of sand.

Lord, we would bring our burden
Of sinful thought and deed,
In Thy pure presence kneeling
From bondage to be freed;
Our heart's most bitter sorrow
For all our work undone,
So many talents wasted,
So few true conquests won.

Yet still, O Lord long-suffering, Still grant us in our need Here in Thy holy presence The saving Name to plead; And on Thy day of blessings, Within Thy temple walls, To foretaste the pure worship Of Sion's golden halls;

Until in joy and gladness
We reach that home at last,
When life's short week of sorrow
And sin and strife is past;
When angel-hands have gathered
The first ripe fruit for Thee,
O Father, Son, and Spirit,
Most Holy Trinity!

HALLELUJAH! Fairest morning!
Fairer than our words can say!
Down we lay the heavy burden
Of life's toil and care to-day;
While this morn of joy and love
Brings fresh vigour from above.

Sun-day, full of holy glory!
Sweetest rest-day of the soul!
Light upon a world of darkness
From thy blessed moments roll!
Holy, happy, heavenly day,
Thou canst charm our grief away.

In the gladness of His worship
We will seek our joy to-day:
It is then we learn the fulness
Of the grace for which we pray,
When the word of life is given,
Like the Saviour's voice from heaven.

Let the day with Thee be ended,
As with Thee it has begun;
And Thy blessing, Lord, be granted,
Till earth's days and weeks are done;
That at last Thy servants may
Keep eternal Sabbath-day.

44.

LIGHT of light, enlighten me;
Now anew the day is dawning:
Sun of grace, the shadows flee;
Brighten Thou my Sabbath morning:
With Thy joyous sunshine blest
Happy is my day of rest.

Fount of all our joy and peace,
To Thy living waters lead me;
Thou from earth my soul release,
And with grace and mercy feed me;
Bless Thy word, that it may prove
Rich in fruits that Thou dost love.

Kindle Thou the sacrifice
That upon my lips is lying;
Clear the shadows from mine eyes,
That, from every error flying,
No strange fire may in me glow,
That Thine altar doth not know.

Let me with my heart to-day,
Holy, Holy, Holy, singing,
Rapt awhile from earth away,
All my soul to Thee upspringing,
Have a foretaste inly given
How they worship Thee in heaven.

THIS is the day of light:

Let there be light to-day:

O Dayspring, rise upon our night,

And chase its gloom away.

This is the day of rest:
Our failing strength renew:
On weary brain and troubled breast
Shed Thou Thy freshening dew.

This is the day of peace:
Thy peace our spirits fill:
Bid Thou the blasts of discord cease,
The waves of strife be still.

This is the day of prayer:

Let earth to heaven draw near:

Lift up our hearts to seek Thee there;

Come down to meet us here.

This is the first of days:

Send forth Thy quickening breath,

And wake dead souls to love and praise,

O Vanquisher of death!

(PSALM LXXXIV.)

LORD of the worlds above,
How pleasant and how fair
The dwellings of Thy love,
Thy earthly temples, are!
To Thine abode
My heart aspires
With warm desires
To see my God.

O happy souls that pray Where God appoints to hear! O happy men that pay Their constant service there!

They praise Thee still;
And happy they
That love the way
To Sion's hill.

They go from strength to strength Through this dark vale of tears, Till each arrives at length, Till each in heaven appears:

For Thou, within no walls confined, Inhabitest the humble mind; Such ever bring Thee where they come, And going take Thee to their home.

Dear Shepherd of Thy chosen few, Thy former mercies here renew; Here to our waiting hearts proclaim The sweetness of Thy saving name.

Here may we prove the power of prayer To strengthen faith and sweeten care, To teach our faint desires to rise, And bring all heaven before our eyes.

Lord, we are few, but Thou art near, Nor short Thine arm, nor deaf Thine ear; O rend the heavens, come quickly down, And make a thousand hearts Thine own.

THIS is the day the Lord hath made, He calls the hours His own; Let heaven rejoice, let earth be glad, And praise surround the throne.

To-day He rose and left the dead,
And Satan's empire fell;
To-day the saints His triumphs spread,
And all His wonders tell.

Hosanna to the anointed King, To David's holy Son! Help us, O Lord; descend and bring Salvation from Thy throne.

Bless'd be the Lord, who comes to men With messages of grace; Who comes, in God His Father's name, To save our sinful race.

Hosanna in the highest strains

The highest heavens in which He reigns
Shall give Him nobler praise.

Grant us Thy peace upon our homeward way; With Thee began, with Thee shall end the day; Guard Thou the lips from sin, the hearts from shame, That in this house have called upon Thy name.

Grant us Thy peace, Lord, through the coming night; Turn Thou for us its darkness into light; From harm and danger keep Thy children free, For dark and light are both alike to Thee.

Grant us Thy peace throughout our earthly life, Our balm in sorrow and our stay in strife: Then, when Thy voice shall bid our conflict cease, Call us, O Lord, to Thine eternal peace.

AND now the wants are told, that brought Thy children to Thy knee; Here lingering still we ask for nought, But simply worship Thee.

The hope of heaven's eternal days
Absorbs not all the heart
That gives Thee glory, love, and praise,
For being what Thou art.

For Thou art God, the one, the same, O'er all things high and bright; And round us, when we speak Thy name, There spreads a heaven of light.

O wondrous peace, in thought to dwell On excellence divine; To know that nought in man can tell How fair Thy beauties shine!

O Thou, above all blessing blest, O'er thanks exalted far, Thy very greatness is a rest To weaklings as we are;

For when we feel the praise of Thee A task beyond our powers, We say "A perfect God is He, And He is fully ours."

Too faint our anthems here,

But oh, the strains how full and clear
Of that eternal choir!

Yet, Lord, to Thy dear will If Thou attune the heart, We in Thy angels' music still May bear our lower part.

'Tis Thine each soul to calm, Each wayward thought reclaim, And make our life a daily psalm Of glory to Thy name.

For the mercies of the day, For this rest upon our way, Thanks to Thee alone be given, Lord of earth and King of heaven.

Cold our services have been, Mingled every prayer with sin; But Thou canst and wilt forgive; By Thy grace alone we live.

Whilst this thorny path we tread, May Thy love our footsteps lead; When our journey here is past, May we rest with Thee at last.

Oh, what snares our path beset! Oh, what cares our spirits fret! Let no earthly thing, we pray, Draw our souls from Thee away.

Thou hast set our daily task; Grace and strength from Thee we ask: Thou our joys and griefs dost send; To Thy will our spirits bend.

SABBATH of the saints of old, Day of mysteries manifold, By the great Creator blest, Type of His eternal rest; Sanctified with thought of thee Be the closing week to me.

Resting from His work, the Lord Spake to-day the hallowing word; And, His wondrous labours done, Now the everlasting Son Gave to heaven and earth the sign Of a wonder more divine.

Resting from His work to-day, In the tomb the Saviour lay, Once again from head to feet Swathed, but in the winding-sheet; Lying in the rock alone, Hid behind the sealed stone.

Lord, with Thee, till life shall end, I would solemn vigil spend; Close the door from sight and sound Of the busy world around, And in patient watch remain, Till my Lord appear again.

Then, the new creation done, Endless rest shall be begun. Jesu, keep me safe from sin, With Thee may I enter in, And, all fear and toil at end, To Thy resting-place ascend.

HAIL to the Lord's Anointed, Great David's greater Son! Hail in the time appointed His reign on earth begun! He comes to break oppression, To set the captive free, To take away transgression, And rule in equity.

He comes with succour speedy To those who suffer wrong, To help the poor and needy, And bid the weak be strong; To give them songs for sighing, Their darkness turn to light, Whose souls, condemned and dying, Were precious in His sight.

Kings shall fall down before Him, And gold and incense bring: All nations shall adore Him, His praise all people sing; For Him shall prayer unceasing And daily vows ascend, His kingdom still increasing, A kingdom without end,

O'er every foe victorious, He on His throne shall rest, From age to age more glorious, All-blessing and all-blest. The tide of time shall never His covenant remove: His name shall stand for ever: That name to us is Love. JAMES MONTOO!

LUTHER'S HYMN.

Great God! what do I see and hear? 87.87.887.

65.

GREAT God, what do I see and hear?
The end of things created:
The Judge of mankind doth appear,
On clouds of glory seated.
The trumpet sounds, the graves restore
The dead which they contained before.
Prepare, my soul, to meet Him.

The dead in Christ shall first arise,
At the last trumpet's sounding,
Caught up to meet Him in the skies,
With joy their Lord surrounding.
No gloomy fears their souls dismay;
His presence sheds eternal day
On those prepared to meet Him.

But sinners, filled with guilty fears,
Behold His wrath prevailing;
For they shall rise, and find their tears
And sighs are unavailing:
The day of grace is past and gone;
Trembling they stand before the throne,
All unprepared to meet Him.

Great God, to Thee my prayers I pour,
In sight of judgment quailing:
Be Thou my strength in that dread hour,
When flesh and heart are failing:
Let perfect love cast out all fear;
So may I, when the Judge is near,
With joy go forth to meet Him.

First stanza anonymous, 1802: 2nd and 8rd by William B. Collyer, 1812, varied by Thomas Cottebill, 1820: 4th by E. M. Goulburn and H. J. Buckoll, 1857.

Upraised to heaven His languid eye

For us He bore the weight of woe,
For us He gave His blood to flow,
And met His Father's anger.

The Lord of love, the Lord of might,

WHEN Christ the Lord would come on earth,
His messenger before Him went,
The greatest born of mortal birth,
And charged with words of deep intent.

The least of all that here attend
Hath honour greater far than he;
He was the Bridegroom's joyful friend,
His body and His spouse are we;

A higher race, the sons of light, Of water and the Spirit born; He the last star of parting night, And we the children of the morn.

And as he boldly spake Thy word,
And joyed to hear the Bridegroom's voice,
Thus may Thy pastors teach, O Lord,
And thus Thy listening church rejoice.

So when next He shines in glory, Wrapping all the earth in fear, Not for chastening, but salvation, Unto us shall He appear.

Honour, glory, might, dominion, To the Father and the Son, With the Everlasting Spirit, While eternal ages run.

Chiefly by EDWARD CASWALL, 1849, from a Latin hymn of the 5th century, recast in the 17th.

WAKE, awake, for night is flying:
The watchmen on the heights are crying;
Awake, Jerusalem, at last.
Midnight hears the welcome voices.
And at the thrilling cry rejoices.
Come forth, ye virgins, night is past.
The Bridegroom comes; awake,
Your lamps with gladness take.
Hallelujah!
And for His marriage feast prepare,

And for His marriage feast prepare, For ye must go to meet Him there.

Zion hears the watchmen singing,
And all her heart with joy is springing;
She wakes, she rises from her gloom;
For her Lord comes down all-glorious,
The strong in grace, in truth victorious;
Her Star is risen, her Light is come.
Ah! come, Thou blessed Lord,

O Jesus, Son of God.

Hallelujah!

We follow till the halls we see Where Thou hast bid us sup with Thee.

Hark! the herald-angels sing Glory to the new-born King.

Christ, by highest heaven adored, Christ, the everlasting Lord, Late in time behold Him come, Offspring of a Virgin's womb. Veiled in flesh the Godhead see: Hail, the incarnate Deity! Pleased as Man with man to dwell, Jesus, our Emmanuel.

Hark! the herald-angels sing

Hark! the herald-angels sing Glory to the new-born King.

Hail, the heaven-born Prince of peace! Hail, the Sun of righteousness! Light and life to all He brings, Risen with healing in His wings. Mild He lays His glory by, Born that man no more may die, Born to raise the sons of earth, Born to give them second birth.

Hark! the herald-angels sing Glory to the new-born King.

O COME, all ye faithful,

Joyful and triumphant;
O come ye, O come ye to Bethlehem;
Come and behold Him
Born, the King of angels;
O come, let us adore Him, Christ the Lord.

God of God,
Light of Light,
Lo, He abhors not the Virgin's womb;
Very God,
Begotten, not created;
O come, let us adore Him, Christ the Lord.

Sing, choirs of angels,
Sing in exultation,
Sing, all ye citizens of heaven above,
Glory to God
In the highest;
O come, let us adore Him, Christ the Lord.

Yea, Lord, we greet Thee,
Born this happy morning;
Jesu, to Thee be glory given;
Word of the Father,
Now in flesh appearing;
O come, let us adore Him, Christ the Lord.

76.

CHRISTIANS, awake, salute the happy morn, Whereon the Saviour of the world was born; Rise to adore the mystery of love, Which hosts of angels chanted from above: With them the joyful tidings first begun Of God incarnate and the Virgin's Son.

Then to the watchful shepherds it was told, Who heard the angelic herald's voice: "Behold, I bring good tidings of a Saviour's birth To you and all the nations upon earth: This day hath God fulfilled His promised word, This day is born a Saviour, Christ the Lord."

He spake; and straightway the celestial choir In hymns of joy, unknown before, conspire: The praises of redeeming love they sang, And heaven's whole orb with hallelujahs rang: God's highest glory was their anthem still, Peace upon earth, and unto men good will.

Oh! may we keep and ponder in our mind God's wondrous love in saving lost mankind; Trace we the Babe, who hath retrieved our loss, From the poor manger to the bitter cross; Tread in His steps, assisted by His grace, Till man's first heavenly state again takes place.

Then may we hope, the angelic hosts among, To join, redeemed, a glad triumphant throng: He that was born upon this joyful day Around us all His glory shall display: Saved by His love, incessant we shall sing Eternal praise to heaven's almighty King.

BRIGHTEST and best of the sons of the morning,
Dawn on our darkness and lend us thine aid.
Star of the east, the horizon adorning,
Guide where our infant Redeemer is laid.

Cold on His cradle the dew-drops are shining,
Low lies His head with the beasts of the stall;
Angels adore Him in slumber reclining,
Maker and Monarch and Saviour of all.

Say, shall we yield Him, in costly devotion,
Odours of Edom, and offerings divine?
Gems of the mountain, and pearls of the ocean,
Myrrh from the forest, or gold from the mine?

Vainly we offer each ample oblation;
Vainly with gifts would His favour secure:
Richer by far is the heart's adoration;
Dearer to God are the prayers of the poor.

Brightest and best of the sons of the morning,
Dawn on our darkness and lend us thine aid.
Star of the east, the horizon adorning,

EARTH has many a noble city; Bethlehem, thou dost all excel: Out of thee the Lord from heaven Came to rule His Israel.

Fairer than the sun at morning
Was the star that told His birth,
To the world its God announcing
Seen in fleshly form on earth.

Eastern sages at His cradle

Make oblations rich and rare;

See them give, in deep devotion,

Gold, and frankincense, and myrrh,

Sacred gifts of mystic meaning:
Incense doth their God disclose,
Gold the King of kings proclaimeth,
Myrrh His sepulchre foreshows.

WHEN, marshalled on the nightly plain, The glittering hosts bestud the sky, One star alone of all the train Can fix the sinner's wandering eye.

Hark! hark! to God the chorus breaks
From every host, from every gem;
But one alone the Saviour speaks;
It is the Star of Bethlehem.

It is my guide, my life, my all,

It bids my dark forebodings cease,

And through the storm and danger's thrall,

It leads me to the port of peace.

Then safely moored, my perils o'er, I'll sing, first in night's diadem, For ever and for evermore, The Star, the Star of Bethlehem.

Pure eyes and Christian hearts.

The works of God above, below, Within us and around, Are pages in that book to show How God Himself is found.

The glorious sky, embracing all,
Is like the Maker's love,
Wherewith encompassed, great and small
In peace and order move.

The dew of heaven is like Thy grace;
It steals in silence down;
But, where it lights, the favoured place
By richest fruits is known.

One name above all glorious names,
With its ten thousand tongues
The everlasting sea proclaims,
Echoing angelic songs.

Yet come not thou with tears alone, Or outward form of prayer; But let it in thine heart be known That penitence is there.

Thy breast to beat, or garment rend, God asketh not of thee; Thy stubborn soul He bids thee bend In true humility.

O righteous Judge, if Thou wilt deign To grant us all we need, We pray for time to turn again, And grace to turn indeed.

Blest Three in One, with grief sincere
To Thee we humbly pray,
Let fruits of penitence appear
To bless this fasting-day.

ROCK of Ages, cleft for me,
Let me hide myself in Thee;
Let the water and the blood,
From Thy riven side which flowed,
Be of sin the double cure,
Cleanse me from its guilt and power.

Not the labours of my hands Can fulfil the law's demands; Could my zeal no respite know, Could my tears for ever flow, All for sin could not atone; Thou must save, and Thou alone.

Nothing in my hand I bring, Simply to Thy cross I cling; Naked, come to Thee for dress; Helpless, look to Thee for grace; Foul, I to the Fountain fly; Wash me, Saviour, or I die.

While I draw this fleeting breath, When mine eyelids close in death, When I rise to worlds unknown, See Thee on Thy judgment throne, Rock of Ages, cleft for me, Let me hide myself in Thee.

O SACRED Head, surrounded
By crown of piercing thorn!
O bleeding Head, so wounded,
Reviled, and put to scorn!
Death's pallid hue comes o'er Thee,
The glow of life decays,
Yet angel-hosts adore Thee,
And tremble as they gaze.

I see Thy strength and vigour
All fading in the strife,
And death with cruel rigour
Bereaving Thee of life;
O agony and dying!
O love to sinners free!
Jesu, all grace supplying,
O turn Thy face on me.

In this Thy bitter passion,
Good Shepherd, think of me
With Thy most sweet compassion,
Unworthy though I be:
Beneath Thy cross abiding,
For ever would I rest,
In Thy dear love confiding,
And with Thy presence blest.

Translation by Sir Henry W. Baker, 1861, from a hymn probably by St. Bernard of Clairvaux, d. 1153.

100.

LORD, in this Thy mercy's day, Ere the time shall pass away, On our knees we fall and pray.

Holy Jesu, grant us tears, Fill us with heart-searching fears, Ere the hour of doom appears.

Lord, on us Thy Spirit pour, Kneeling lowly at Thy door, Ere it close for evermore.

By Thy night of agony, By Thy supplicating cry, By Thy willingness to die,

By Thy tears of bitter woe For Jerusalem below, Let us not Thy love forgo.

Judge and Saviour of our race, When we see Thee face to face, Grant us 'neath Thy wings a place.

On Thy love we rest alone, And that love will then be known By the pardoned round Thy throne.

THERE is a green hill far away, Without a city wall, Where the dear Lord was crucified, Who died to save us all.

We may not know, we cannot tell, What pains He had to bear; But we believe it was for us He hung and suffered there.

He died that we might be forgiven, He died to make us good, That we might go at last to heaven, Saved by His precious blood.

There was no other good enough
To pay the price of sin;
He only could unlock the gate
Of heaven, and let us in.

O dearly, dearly has He loved, And we must love Him too, And trust in His redeeming blood, And try His works to do.

OBJECT of my first desire,
Jesus crucified for me,
All to happiness aspire,
Only to be found in Thee.
Thee to praise and Thee to know,
This be all our bliss below;
Thee to see and Thee to love,
This shall be our bliss above.

Lord, it is not life to live,

If Thy presence Thou deny;

Lord, if Thou Thy presence give,

'Tis no longer death to die.

Singly from Thy smile it flows;

Peace and happiness are Thine;

Mine they are, if Thou art mine.

Deep in His heart for us
The wound of love He bore,
That love, which still He kindles in
The hearts that Him adore.

O Jesu! Victim blest!
What else but love divine
Could Thee constrain to open thus
That sacred heart of Thine?

O Fount of endless life,
O Spring of waters clear,
O Flame celestial, cleansing all
That unto Thee draw near,

Hide me in Thy dear heart,

For thither do I fly,

There seek Thy grace through life, in death
Thine immortality.

104.

WHEN I survey the wondrous cross, On which the Prince of glory died, My richest gain I count but loss, And pour contempt on all my pride.

Forbid it, Lord, that I should boast
Save in the death of Christ, my God:
All the vain things that charm me most,
I sacrifice them to His blood.

See from His head, His hands, His feet, Sorrow and love flow mingled down; Did e'er such love and sorrow meet, Or thorns compose so rich a crown?

Were the whole realm of nature mine, That were an offering far too small; Love so amazing, so divine, Demands my soul, my life, my all.

MY faith looks up to Thee,
Thou Lamb of Calvary,
Saviour divine:
Now hear me while I pray;
Take all my guilt away;
O let me from this day
Be wholly Thine.

May Thy rich grace impart
Strength to my fainting heart,
My zeal inspire:
As Thou hast died for me,
O may my love to Thee
Pure, warm, and changeless be,
A living fire.

While life's dark maze I tread,
And griefs around me spread,
Be Thou my Guide:
Bid darkness turn to day,
Wipe sorrow's tears away,
Nor let me ever stray
From Thee aside.

When ends life's transient dream,
When death's cold sullen stream
Shall o'er me roll,
Blest Saviour, then in love
Fear and distrust remove;
O bear me safe above,
A ransomed soul.

RAY PALMER, 1880.

MY God, I love Thee; not because I hope for heaven thereby,
Nor because they who love Thee not
Must die eternally.

Thou, O my Jesus, Thou didst me Upon the cross embrace; For me didst bear the nails and spear, And manifold disgrace,

And griefs and torments numberless, And sweat of agony; Yea, death itself; and all for me, Who was Thine enemy.

Then why, O blessed Jesu Christ, Should I not love Thee well? Not for the hope of winning heaven, Nor of escaping hell;

Not with the hope of gaining aught,
Not seeking a reward;
But as Thyself hast loved me,
O ever-loving Lord.

Even so I love Thee, and will love, And in Thy praise will sing, Solely because Thou art my God, And my eternal King.

WHEN my love to Christ grows weak, When for deeper faith I seek, Then in thought I go to thee, Garden of Gethsemane.

There I walk amid the shades, While the lingering twilight fades; See that suffering, friendless One Weeping, praying, there alone.

When my love for man grows weak, When for stronger faith I seek, Hill of Calvary, I go To thy scenes of fear and woe.

There behold His agony, Suffered on the bitter tree; See His anguish, see His faith, Love triumphant still in death.

Then to life I turn again, Learning all the worth of pain, Learning all the might that lies In a full self-sacrifice.

Sing we then to God above Praise eternal as His love: Praise Him, all ye heavenly host, Father, Son, and Holy Ghost.

Thy life was given for me:
What have I given for Thee?

Long years were spent for me
In weariness and woe,
That through eternity
Thy glory I might know.
Long years were spent for me:
Have I spent one for Thee?

Thou, Lord, hast borne for me More than my tongue can tell Of bitterest agony, To rescue me from hell.

Thou sufferedst all for me:
What have I borne for Thee?

And Thou hast brought to me Down from Thy home above Salvation full and free, Thy pardon and Thy love. Great gifts Thou broughtest me: What have I brought to Thee?

Oh, let my life be given,
My years for Thee be spent;
World-fetters all be riven,
And joy with suffering blent:
To Thee my all I bring,
My Saviour and my King.

O COME and mourn with me awhile;
O come ye to the Saviour's side;
O come, together let us mourn:
Jesus our Lord is crucified.

Have we no tears to shed for Him,
While soldiers scoff and Jews deride?
Ah, look how patiently He hangs:
Jesus our Lord is crucified.

Seven times He spake, seven words of love; And all three hours His silence cried For mercy on the souls of men: Jesus our Lord is crucified.

O break, O break, hard heart of mine!
Thy weak self-love and guilty pride
His Pilate and His Judas were:
Jesus our Lord is crucified.

A broken heart, a fount of tears,
Ask, and they will not be denied;
A broken heart love's cradle is:
Iesus our Lord is crucified.

O love of God! O sin of man!
In this dread act your strength is tried,
And victory remains with love:
Jesus our Lord is crucified.

- O word of comfort, through the silence stealing, As the dread act of sacrifice began;
- O infinite compassion, still revealing

 The infinite forgiveness won for man;
- O word of hope to raise us nearer heaven, When courage fails us and when faith is dim; The souls for whom Christ prays to Christ are given, To find their pardon and their joy in Him.

All is o'er, the pain, the sorrow,

Easter Eve.

111.

ALL is o'er, the pain, the sorrow,
Human taunts, and fiendish spite:
Death shall be despoiled to-morrow
Of the prey he grasps to-night;
Yet once more, to seal his doom,
Christ must sleep within the tomb.

Close and still the cell that holds Him,
While in brief repose He lies;
Deep the slumber that enfolds Him,
Veiled awhile from mortal eyes;
Slumber such as needs must be
After hard-won victory.

Fierce and deadly was the anguish,
Which on yonder cross He bore.
How did soul and body languish,
Till the toil of death was o'er!
But that toil, so fierce and dread,
Bruised and crushed the serpent's head.

All night long, with plaintive voicing, Chant His requiem soft and low; Loftier strains of loud rejoicing From to-morrow's harps shall flow:

"Death and hell at length are slain,

"Christ hath triumphed, Christ doth reign."

Hearts to heaven and voices raise;
Sing to God a hymn of gladness,
Sing to God a hymn of praise.
He who on the cross a victim
For the world's salvation bled,
Jesus Christ, the King of glory,
Now is risen from the dead.

Now the iron bars are broken,
Christ from death to life is born,
Glorious life and life immortal,
On this holy Easter morn:
Christ hath triumphed, and we conquer
By His mighty enterprise;
We with Him to life eternal
By His resurrection rise.

Christ is risen, Christ the first-fruits
Of the holy harvest-field,
Which will all its full abundance
At His second coming yield:
Then the golden ears of harvest
Will their heads before Him wave,
Ripened by His glorious sunshine,
From the furrows of the grave.

Christ is risen; we are risen:
Shed upon us heavenly grace,
Rain and dew and gleams of glory
From the brightness of Thy face;
That we, Lord, with hearts in heaven,
Here on earth may fruitful be,
And by angel-hands be gathered,
And be ever safe with Thee.

The love that shines serene.

So grant the precious things brought forth By sun and moon below, That Thee in Thy new heaven and earth We never may forego.

There the glorious triumph waits; Lift your heads, eternal gates. Christ hath vanquished death and sin; Take the King of glory in.

See, the heaven its Lord receives; Yet He loves the earth He leaves; Though returning to His throne, Still He calls mankind His own.

See, He lifts His hands above; See, He shows the prints of love; Hark! His gracious lips bestow Blessings on His church below.

Still for us He intercedes, His prevailing death He pleads; Near Himself prepares our place, Harbinger of human race.

O, though parted from our sight, High above you azure height, Grant our hearts may thither rise, Following Thee beyond the skies.

That we may be where now Thou art,
And look upon Thy face.

And ever on our earthly path
A gleam of glory lies,
A light still breaks behind the cloud
That veils Thee from our eyes.

Lift up our hearts, lift up our minds, And let Thy grace be given, That, while we linger yet below, Our treasure be in heaven;

To mansions in the skies,
And round Thy throne unceasingly

And lead us to Thy rest.

Thou art gone up on high;
But Thou didst first come down,
Through earth's most bitter agony
To pass unto Thy crown:
And girt with griefs and fears
Our onward course must be;
But only let that path of tears
Lead us at last to Thee.

Thou art gone up on high;
But Thou shalt come again,
With all the bright ones of the sky
Attendant in Thy train.
O by Thy saving power
So make us live and die,
That we may stand, in that dread hour,
At Thy right hand on high.

HE is gone—beyond the skies; A cloud receives Him from our eyes; Gone beyond the highest height Of mortal gaze or angels' flight; Through the veils of time and space, Passed into the Holiest place; All the toil, the sorrow done, All the battle fought and won.

He is gone—and we remain
In this world of sin and pain;
In the void which He has left
On this earth, of Him bereft;
We have still His work to do,
We can still His path pursue;
Seek Him both in friend and foe;
In ourselves His image show.

He is gone—towards their goal World and Church must onwards roll; Far behind we leave the past; Forward are our glances cast: Still His words before us range Through the ages, as they change: Wheresoe'er the truth shall lead, He shall give whate'er we need.

He is gone—but, not in vain, Wait, until He comes again: He is risen, He is not here, Far above this earthly sphere: Evermore in heart and mind, There our peace in Him we find; To our own eternal Friend, Thitherward let us ascend.

WHEN God of old came down from heaven, In power and wrath He came; Before His feet the clouds were riven, Half darkness and half flame.

But when He came the second time, He came in power and love; Softer than gale at morning prime Hovered His Holy Dove.

The fires that rushed on Sinai down In sudden torrents dread, Now gently light, a glorious crown, On every sainted head.

And as on Israel's awe-struck ear
The voice exceeding loud,
The trump, that angels quake to hear,
Thrilled from the deep, dark cloud;

So, when the Spirit of our God Came down His flock to find, A voice from heaven was heard abroad, A rushing, mighty wind.

It fills the church of God; it fills
The sinful world around:
Only in stubborn hearts and wills
No place for it is found.

Come, Lord, come, Wisdom, Love, and Power, Open our ears to hear:

Let us not miss the accepted hour;

Save, Lord, by love or fear.

COME, HOLY GHOST.

Come, Holy Ghost, our souls inspire

T. ATTWOOD.

131.

COME, Holy Ghost, our souls inspire, And lighten with celestial fire.

Thou the anointing Spirit art, Who dost Thy sevenfold gifts impart.

Thy blessed unction from above Is comfort, life, and fire of love.

Enable with perpetual light The dulness of our blinded sight.

Anoint and cheer our soiled face With the abundance of Thy grace.

Keep far our foes, give peace at home; Where Thou art Guide no ill can come.

Teach us to know the Father, Son, And Thee, of both, to be but One;

That through the ages all along, This may be our endless song:

> Praise to Thy eternal merit, Father, Son, and Holy Spirit!

> > Paraphrase of the preceding, by Bishop Cosin, 1627.

132.

OUR blest Redeemer, ere He breathed His tender last farewell, A Guide, a Comforter, bequeathed With us to dwell.

He came sweet influence to impart,
A gracious, willing Guest,
While He can find one humble heart
Wherein to rest.

And His that gentle voice we hear,

Soft as the breath of even,

That checks each thought, that calms each fear,

And speaks of heaven.

And every virtue we possess,
And every victory won,
And every thought of holiness,
Are His alone.

Spirit of purity and grace,
Our weakness, pitying, see;
O make our hearts Thy dwelling-place,
And meet for Thee.

COME, gracious Spirit, heavenly Dove, With light and comfort from above; Be Thou our Guardian, Thou our Guide; O'er every thought and step preside.

The light of truth to us display, And make us know and choose Thy way; Plant holy fear in every heart, That we from God may ne'er depart.

Lead us to holiness, the road
That we must take to dwell with God;
Lead us to Christ, the living Way,
Nor let us from His precepts stray.

Lead us to God, our final rest, To be with Him for ever blest; Lead us to heaven, its bliss to share, Fulness of joy for ever there.

Varied from Simon Browns, 1720.

GRACIOUS Spirit, dwell with me: I myself would gracious be,
And with words that help and heal
Would Thy life in mine reveal,
And with actions bold and meek
Would for Christ my Saviour speak.

Truthful Spirit, dwell with me: I myself would truthful be,
And with wisdom kind and clear
Let Thy life in mine appear,
And with actions brotherly
Speak my Lord's sincerity.

Mighty Spirit, dwell with me:
I myself would mighty be—
Mighty so as to prevail
Where unaided man must fail;
Ever by a mighty hope
Pressing on and bearing up.

Holy Spirit, dwell with me:
I myself would holy be;
Separate from sin, I would
Choose and cherish all things good;
And whatever I can be,
Give to Him who gave me Thee.

Holy Spirit, Truth Divine!

77.77.

Rev. L. G. HAYNE.

135.

HOLY Spirit, Truth divine, Dawn upon this soul of mine: Word of God, and inward Light, Wake my spirit, clear my sight.

Holy Spirit, Love divine, Glow within this heart of mine; Kindle every high desire; Perish self in Thy pure fire!

Holy Spirit, Power divine, Fill and nerve this will of mine; By Thee may I strongly live, Bravely bear and nobly strive.

Holy Spirit, Right divine, King within my conscience reign; Be my Law, and I shall be Firmly bound, for ever free.

Holy Spirit, Peace divine, Still this restless heart of mine; Speak to calm this tossing sea, Stayed in Thy tranquillity.

SAMUEL LONGFELLOW, 1864.

Trinity Sunday.

136.

HOLY, Holy, Holy, Lord God Almighty!

Early in the morning our song shall rise to Thee.

Holy, Holy, Holy! merciful and mighty,

God in Three Persons, blessed Trinity!

Holy, Holy! all the saints adore Thee,
Casting down their golden crowns around the glassy sea;
Cherubim and Seraphim falling down before Thee,
Which wert, and art, and evermore shalt be.

Holy, Holy, Holy! though the darkness hide Thee,
Though the eye of sinful man Thy glory may not see,
Only Thou art holy; there is none beside Thee,
Perfect in power, in love, and purity.

Holy, Holy, Lord God Almighty!

All Thy works shall praise Thy name in earth and sky and sea.

Holy, Holy, Holy! merciful and mighty, God in Three Persons, blessed Trinity!

Round the Lord in glory seated

Trinity Sunday.

139.

ROUND the Lord in glory seated
Cherubim and Seraphim
Filled His temple, and repeated
Each to each the alternate hymn.
"Lord, Thy glory fills the heaven,
Earth is with Thy fulness stored;
Unto Thee be glory given,
Holy, Holy, Holy Lord."

Heaven is still with glory ringing,
Earth takes up the angels' cry,
"Holy, Holy, Holy," singing,
"Lord of hosts, the Lord most high.
Lord, Thy glory fills the heaven,
Earth is with Thy fulness stored;
Unto Thee be glory given,
Holy, Holy, Holy Lord."

With His seraph train before Him,
With His holy church below,
Thus conspire we to adore Him,
Bid we thus our anthem flow:
"Lord, Thy glory fills the heaven,
Earth is with Thy fulness stored;
Unto Thee be glory given,
Holy, Holy, Holy Lord."

JESUS calls us: o'er the tumult
Of our life's wild restless sea
Day by day His sweet voice soundeth,
Saying, "Christian, follow Me:"

As of old Saint Andrew heard it
By the Galilean lake,
Turned from home, and toil, and kindred,
Leaving all for His dear sake.

Jesus calls us from the worship
Of the vain world's golden store,
From each idol that would keep us,
Saying, "Christian, love Me more."

In our joys and in our sorrows,

Days of toil and hours of ease,

Still He calls, in cares and pleasures,

"Christian, love Me more than these."

Jesus calls us: by Thy mercies, Saviour, may we hear Thy call, Give our hearts to Thy obedience, Serve and love Thee best of all.

O God, enshrined in dazzling light,

DAY'S PSALTER, 1563.

Conversion of St. Paul.

141.

O GOD, enshrined in dazzling light Above the highest sphere, My soul is filled with awe to feel That Thou art present here.

Thine eye is as a lamp of fire,
And in its searching flame
I see myself, all stained with sin,
And bow my head with shame.

But, O my God, Thy Son hath died,And from the dust I rise,And from myself and all my sinsTo Thee I lift mine eyes.

My sins are dark, but over all Thy burning love I see; And all my soul is full of praise, And worships only Thee.

BISHOP WALSHAM How, 1871.

Purification of St. Mary the Virgin.

142.

BLEST are the pure in heart, For they shall see our God: The secret of the Lord is theirs; Their soul is Christ's abode.

The Lord, who left the heavens Our life and peace to bring, To dwell in lowliness with men, Their Pattern and their King,—

Still to the lowly soul
He doth Himself impart,
And for His dwelling and His throne
Chooseth the pure in heart.

Lord, we Thy presence seek; May ours this blessing be; Give us a pure and lowly heart, A temple meet for Thee.

Still is the traitor heart

St. Matthias.

143.

STILL is the traitor heart, Silent the lips forsworn; But who shall bear his truer part, Fighting for faith new-born?

O risen Master, hear
Thy loyal followers' voice;
In their assembling be Thou near,
Thyself direct their choice.

The lot in silence cast
Reveals Matthias' name.
Be strong, true saint, retrieve the past,
Bear thou thy cross of shame.

And O, when false hearts fail,
Dreading the battle's stress;
When bravest spirits shrink and quail,
And foemen round us press,

Now, as of old, be nigh,
Great Leader of the host,
Thy courage give, Thy strength supply,
That none desert his post.

So, in that land of light
Where false to true gives place,
We, by Thy love and in Thy might,
Shall stand before Thy face.

HOW sweet the name of Jesus sounds In a believer's ear! It soothes his sorrows, heals his wounds, And drives away his fear.

It makes the wounded spirit whole,
And calms the troubled breast;
'Tis manna to the hungry soul,
And to the weary rest.

Dear name! the rock on which I build, My shield and hiding-place, My never-failing treasury filled With boundless stores of grace.

Jesus, my Shepherd, Guardian, Friend,My Prophet, Priest, and King,My Lord, my Life, my Way, mine End,Accept the praise I bring.

Weak is the effort of my heart, And cold my warmest thought; But when I see Thee as Thou art, I'll praise Thee as I ought.

Till then I would Thy love proclaim
With every fleeting breath;
And may the music of Thy name
Refresh my soul in death.

Thou art the Life: the rending tomb Proclaims Thy conquering arm; And those who put their trust in Thee Nor death nor hell shall harm.

Thou art the Way, the Truth, the Life: Grant us that Way to know, That Truth to keep, that Life to win, Whose joys eternal flow.

146.

O SON of God, our Captain of salvation, Thyself by suffering schooled to human grief, We bless Thee for Thy sons of consolation, Who follow in the steps of Thee their Chief;

Those whom Thy Spirit's dread vocation severs

To lead the vanguard of Thy conquering host;

Whose toilsome years are spent in brave endeavours

To bear Thy saving name from coast to coast;

Those whose bright faith makes feeble hearts grow stronge And sends fresh warriors to the great campaign, Bids the lone convert feel estranged no longer, And wins the sundered to be one again;

And all true helpers, patient, kind, and skilful,
Who shed Thy light across our darkened earth,
Counsel the doubting, and restrain the wilful,
Soothe the sick bed, and share the children's mirth.

Such was Thy Levite, strong in self-oblation

To cast his all at Thine apostles' feet;

He whose new name, through every Christian nation,

From age to age our thankful strains repeat.

Thus, Lord, Thy blessed saint in memory keeping, Still be Thy church's watchword, "Comfort ye;" Till in our Father's house shall end our weeping, And all our wants be satisfied in Thee.

147.

WHO shall be the last great seer
That the world goes forth to hear?
What shall be his warning cry
When the day of doom draws nigh?
Whence shall come the magic power,
That in man's supremest hour
Smooths the rough and rugged road
For the highway of our God?

Few and short the words he speaks; Plain and straight the goal he seeks; Round his path shall never shine Festal pomp nor wondrous sign; Lonely course and hopeless fight, Rising doubt and dwindling light,—Such the lot of him whose name Burns with more than prophet's flame.

"Change the heart and soul and mind, Dark for bright and hard for kind; Wash you clean from stains of earth; Leap into a second birth; People, soldier, scribe, and priest, Each from thrall of self released, Live a life sincere and true, For your King is close in view."

Thus he spake, that heaven-sent man, Foremost in the battle's van, Herald of an unseen Light, Martyr for the simple right. May we learn on this his day, That in duty's homely way Bravely, firmly, humbly trod, Man can best prepare for God.

ARTHUR P. STANLEY, 1879.

O ROCK of ages, one Foundation,
On which the living church doth rest,—
The church, whose walls are strong salvation,
Whose gates are praise,—Thy name be blest!

Son of the living God, O call us
Once and again to follow Thee;
And give us strength, whate'er befall us,
Thy true disciples still to be.

When fears appal, and faith is failing,
Make Thy voice heard o'er wind and wave,
"Why doubt?"—and in Thy love prevailing
Put forth Thine hand to help and save.

And if our coward hearts deny Thee, In inmost thought, in deed, or word, Let not our hardness still defy Thee, But with a look subdue us, Lord.

O strengthen Thou our weak endeavour Thee in Thy sheep to serve and tend, To give ourselves to Thee for ever, And find Thee with us to the end.

149.

FOR all Thy saints, a noble throng, Who fell by fire and sword, Who soon were called, or waited long, We praise Thy name, O Lord;

For him who left his father's side, Nor linger'd by the shore, When, softer than the weltering tide, Thy summons glided o'er;

Who stood beside the maiden dead, Who climb'd the mount with Thee, And saw the glory round Thy head, One of Thy chosen three;

Who knelt beneath the olive shade,
Who drank Thy cup of pain,
And pass'd from Herod's flashing blade
To see Thy face again.

Lord, give us grace, and give us love, Like him to leave behind Earth's cares and joys, and look above With true and earnest mind.

So shall we learn to drink Thy cup,
So meek and firm be found,
When Thou shalt come to take us up
Where Thine elect are crowned.

THOU whose unseen servants stand, Prompt to work Thy high command, Keep Thy children, Lord, we pray, In the safe and narrow way. If the willing spirit fail, If the Tempter's lure prevail, Give Thine angels charge that we In their hands upheld may be.

If in youth we follow far
Treacherous light or wandering star;
If for pleasure, wealth, or fame,
Earth the heaven-born soul would claim;
If for aid a brother cry,
And we pass unheeding by,
Give Thine angels charge that we
In their hands upheld may be.

If our bark be tempest-tost,
Love, and faith, and hope be lost;
If our sins before us rise,
And we dread to meet Thine eyes;
When we call on Thee to save,
Thou, who once didst still the wave,
Give Thine angels charge that we
In their hands upheld may be.

They within the heavenly place Evermore behold Thy face; Sinless they, while we from sin But with death our freedom win; Now with them our voice we raise Thy thrice-holy name to praise, They Thy ministers, and we Heirs of God with Christ to be.

IT came upon the midnight clear,
That glorious song of old,
From angels bending near the earth
To touch their harps of gold:—
Peace on the earth, goodwill to men
From heaven's all-gracious King.
The world in solemn stillness lay
To hear the angels sing.

Still through the cloven skies they come
With graceful wings unfurled;
And still their heavenly music floats
O'er all the weary world:
Above its sad and lowly plains
They bend on hovering wing,
And ever o'er its Babel sounds
The blessed angels sing.

O ye, beneath some crushing load
Whose forms are bending low,
Who toil along the climbing way
With painful steps and slow,
Look now, for glad and golden hours
Come swiftly on the wing;
O rest beside the weary road,
And hear the angels sing.

For lo, the days are hastening on,
By prophets seen of old,
When with the ever-circling years
Shall come the time foretold,
When the new heaven and earth shall own
The Prince of Peace their King,
And the whole world send back the song
Which now the angels sing.

WHAT thanks and praise to Thee we owe, O Priest and Sacrifice divine, For Thy dear saint through whom we know So many a gracious word of Thine;

Whom Thou didst choose to tell the tale Of all Thy manhood's toils and tears, And for a moment lift the veil That hides Thy boyhood's spotless years.

How many a soul with guilt oppressed Has learned to hear the joyful sound In that sweet tale of sin confessed, The Father's love, the lost and found!

What countless worshippers have sung, In lowly fane or lofty choir, The song that loosed the silent tongue Of him who was the Baptist's sire!

And still the church through all her days Uplifts the strains that never cease, The blessed Virgin's hymn of praise, The aged Simeon's words of peace.

O happy saint! whose sacred page, So rich in words of truth and love, Pours on the church from age to age This healing unction from above;

The witness of the Saviour's life, The great Apostle's chosen friend Through weary years of toil and strife, And still found faithful to the end.

So grant us, Lord, like him to live, Beloved by man, approved by Thee, Till Thou at last the summons give, And we, with him, Thy face shall see.

SAINTS of God, whom faith united
In the twelve Apostles' band;
Who for Christ in pain delighted,
Who are now at Christ's right hand;
Ye had many a bitter trial,
Ye were scorned and set at nought,
Fearing nothing but denial
Of the Lord for whom ye fought.

Called on earth to different stations
In the battle of the Lord,
Ye went on through tribulations,
Faith your shield, and truth your sword:
Far apart, through toils and dangers
Passed ye onward to your rest;
In the land where none are strangers,
Now together ye are blest.

Leaves of autumn tell the story
How our lives must also pass,
And that this world's pomp and glory
Fadeth like the summer grass:
Earthly joys are vain and hollow,
Earthly hopes but poor at best;
Christ's true martyrs, we would follow
In your steps, and gain our rest!

Him whose love mankind created,
Him who came for man to bleed,
Him who hath regenerated
Us and all His chosen seed,
We, as we are onward pressing
To His glorious home on high,
With His saints and angels blessing,
Now and ever magnify.

WHAT are these in bright array,
This innumerable throng,
Round the altar, night and day,
Hymning their triumphant song?
"Worthy is the Lamb once slain,
"Blessing, honour, glory, power,
"Wisdom, riches, to obtain,
"New dominion every hour."

These through fiery trials trod;
These from great afflictions came;
Now before the throne of God,
Sealed with His almighty name,
Clad in raiment pure and white,
Victor palms in every hand,
Through their dear Redeemer's might,
More than conquerors they stand.

Hunger, thirst, disease unknown,
On immortal fruits they feed;
Them the Lamb amidst the throne
Shall to living fountains lead:
Joy and gladness banish sighs;
Perfect love dispels all fear;
And for ever from their eyes
God shall wipe away the tear.

WHO are these like stars appearing,
These before God's throne who stand?
Each a golden crown is wearing;
Who are all this glorious band?
Alleluia! hark, they sing,
Praising loud their heavenly King.

Who are these in dazzling brightness,
Clothed in God's own righteousness?
These whose robes of purest whiteness
Shall their lustre still possess,
Still untouched by time's rude hand;
Whence comes all this glorious band?

These are they who have contended
For their Saviour's honour long,
Wrestling on till life was ended,
Following not the sinful throng;
These who well the fight sustained
Victory by the Lamb have gained.

These are they whose hearts were riven,
Sore with woe and anguish tried,
Who in prayer full oft have striven
With the God they glorified;
Now, their painful conflict o'er,
God has bid them weep no more.

These, the Almighty contemplating,
Did as priests before Him stand,
Soul and body always waiting
Day and night at His command:
Now in God's most holy place
Blest they stand before His face.

THE Son of God goes forth to war, A kingly crown to gain; His blood-red banner streams afar: Who follows in His train?

Who best can drink his cup of woe, Triumphant over pain, Who patient bears his cross below, He follows in His train.

A glorious band, the chosen few
On whom the Spirit came,
Twelve valiant saints, their hope they knew,
And mocked the cross and flame:

They met the tyrant's brandished steel,
The lion's gory mane;
They bowed their necks the death to feel:
Who follows in their train?

A noble army, men and boys,

The matron and the maid,

Around the Saviour's throne rejoice,

In robes of light arrayed.

They climbed the steep ascent of heaven,
Through peril, toil, and pain:
O God, to us may grace be given
To follow in their train.

Through tribulation great they came; They bore the cross, despised the shame; From all their labours now they rest, In God's eternal glory blest.

Hunger and thirst they feel no more; Nor sin, nor pain, nor death deplore; The tears are wiped from every eye, And sorrow yields to endless joy.

They see the Saviour face to face, And sing the triumphs of His grace; Him day and night they ceaseless praise, To Him their loud Hosannas raise:

Worthy the Lamb for sinners slain Through endless years to live and reign; Thou hast redeemed us by Thy blood, And made us kings and priests to God.

To teach the truth as taught by Thee,
Saviour, like stars in Thy right hand
The pastors of the churches be.

Wisdom and zeal and faith impart,
Firmness with meekness from above,
To bear Thy people in their heart,
And love the souls whom Thou dost love:

To watch and pray and never faint,
By day and night strict guard to keep,
To warn the sinner, cheer the saint,
Nourish Thy lambs and feed Thy sheep:

Then, when their work is finished here, In humble hope their charge resign: When the chief Shepherd shall appear, O God, may they and we be Thine.

JAMES MONTGOMERY, 1888.

HERE, O my Lord, I see Thee face to face;
Here faith can touch and handle things unseen;
Here would I grasp with firmer hand Thy grace,
And all my weariness upon Thee lean.

Here would I feed upon the bread of God;
Here drink with Thee the royal wine of heaven;
Here would I lay aside each earthly load,
Here taste afresh the calm of sin forgiven.

I have no help but Thine; nor do I need
Another arm save Thine to lean upon;
It is enough, my Lord, enough indeed;
My strength is in Thy might, Thy might alone.

Mine is the sin, but Thine the righteousness;
Mine is the guilt, but Thine the cleansing blood:
Here is my robe, my refuge, and my peace—
Thy blood, Thy righteousness, O Lord, my God.

Too soon we rise; the symbols disappear;
The feast, though not the love, is past and gone:
The bread and wine remove, but Thou art here,
Nearer than ever, still my Shield and Sun.

Feast after feast thus comes and passes by;
Yet, passing, points to the glad feast above,
Giving sweet foretastes of the festal joy,
The Lamb's great bridal feast of bliss and love.

MY God, and is Thy table spread, And doth Thy cup with love o'erflow? Thither be all Thy children led, And let them all Thy sweetness know.

Hail, sacred feast, which Jesus makes, Rich banquet of His flesh and blood! Thrice happy he who here partakes That sacred stream, that heavenly food.

Why are its dainties all in vain Before unwilling hearts displayed? Was not for us the Victim slain? Are we forbid the children's bread?

O let Thy table honoured be And furnished well with joyful guests; And may each soul salvation see, That here its sacred pledges tastes.

Let crowds approach, with hearts prepared, With hearts inflamed let all attend; Nor, when we leave our Father's board, The pleasure or the profit end.

Revive Thy dying churches, Lord, And bid our drooping graces live; And more that energy afford, A Saviour's blood alone can give.

PHILIP DODDRIDGE, d. 1751.

164.

FORGIVE, O Lord, our wanderings past;
Henceforth we would obey Thy call;
Our sins far from us may we cast,
And turn to Thee devoutly all:
Then with archangels we shall sing
High praise to heaven's eternal King.

Hear us, O Lord, in mercy hear;
With sorrow we our guilt deplore;
Pity our grief, and calm our fear,
And give us grace to sin no more:
Then with archangels we shall sing
High praise to heaven's eternal King.

While at Thy table, Lord, we kneel,
And of Thy holy rite partake,
Our pardon there vouchsafe to seal,
For Jesus our Redeemer's sake:
Then with archangels we shall sing
High praise to heaven's eternal King.

Bread of Heaven! on Thee we feed

Right Rev. Archbishop MacLAGAN.

BREAD of heaven, on Thee we feed, For Thy flesh is meat indeed:
Ever may our souls be fed
With this true and living bread;
Day by day with strength supplied,
Through the life of Him who died.

Vine of heaven, Thy blood supplies This blest cup of sacrifice; Lord, Thy wounds our healing give; To Thy cross we look and live. Jesu, may we ever be Grafted, rooted, built in Thee.

Varied from JOSIAH CONDER, 1824.

166.

BLEST Jesu, at Thy gracious word.
We break the hallowed bread,
We shew anew Thy death, O Lord,
On Thee by faith we feed.

That cup of blessing blessed by Thee.

Let it Thy blood impart;

That bread Thy mystic body be,

And cheer each fainting heart.

Thy grace, which sure salvation brings, Lord, may we now receive: Fill Thou the hungry with good things, Thy hidden manna give.

The living Bread, sent down from heaven, In us vouchsafe to be: Thy flesh for all the world is given, And all may live by Thee.

Now, Lord, on us Thy flesh bestow, And let us drink Thy blood, Till all our souls are filled below With all the life of God.

DRAW nigh, and take the body of the Lord, And drink the holy blood for you outpoured.

Saved by that body, hallowed by that blood, With souls refreshed we render thanks to God.

Salvation's Giver, Christ the only Son, By His dear cross and blood the victory won.

Offered was He for greatest and for least, Himself the Victim and Himself the Priest.

He, Ransomer from death, and Light from shade, Giveth His holy grace His saints to aid.

Approach ye then with faithful hearts sincere, And take the pledges of salvation here.

He, that His saints in this world rules and shields, To all believers life eternal yields;

With heavenly bread makes them that hunger whole, Gives living waters to the thirsty soul.

Alpha and Omega, to whom shall bow All nations at the doom, be with us now.

168.

AND now, O Father, mindful of the love
That bought us, once for all, on Calvary's tree,
And having with us Him that pleads above,
We here present, we here spread forth to Thee
That only offering perfect in Thine eyes,
The one true, pure, immortal sacrifice.

Look, Father, look on His anointed face,
And only look on us as found in Him;
Look not on our misusings of Thy grace,
Our prayer so languid, and our faith so dim;
For lo! between our sins and their reward
We set the passion of Thy Son our Lord.

And then for those, our dearest and our best,
By this prevailing presence we appeal;
O fold them closer to Thy mercy's breast;
O do Thine utmost for their souls' true weal;
From tainting mischief keep them white and clear,
And crown Thy gifts with strength to persevere.

And so we come; O draw us to Thy feet,
Most patient Saviour, who canst love us still;
And by this food, so awful and so sweet,
Deliver us from every touch of ill;
In Thine own service make us glad and free,
And grant us never more to part with Thee.

And thus remember Thee.

Can I Gethsemane forget,
Or there Thy conflict see,
Thine agony and bloody sweat,
And not remember Thee?

When to the cross I turn mine eyes, And rest on Calvary, O Lamb of God, my Sacrifice, I must remember Thee—

Remember Thee, and all Thy pains, And all Thy love to me; Yea, while a breath, a pulse remains, Will I remember Thee.

And when these failing lips grow dumb,
And mind and memory flee,
When Thou shalt in Thy kingdom come,
Jesu, remember me.

JESUS, Thou Joy of loving hearts,
Thou Fount of life, Thou Light of men,
From the best bliss that earth imparts,
We turn unfilled to Thee again.

Thy truth unchanged hath ever stood;
Thou savest those that on Thee call;
To them that seek Thee, Thou art good,
To them that find Thee, all in all.

We taste Thee, O Thou living Bread, And long to feast upon Thee still; We drink of Thee, the Fountain-head, And thirst our souls from Thee to fill.

Our restless spirits yearn for Thee, Where'er our changeful lot is cast; Glad, when Thy gracious smile we see, Blest, when our faith can hold Thee fast.

O Jesus, ever with us stay;
Make all our moments calm and bright;

WE plough the fields and scatter
The good seed on the land;
But it is fed and watered
By God's almighty hand.
He sends the snow in winter,
The warmth to swell the grain,
The breezes and the sunshine,
And soft refreshing rain.
All good gifts around us
Are sent from heaven above;
Then thank the Lord, O thank the Lord,
For all His love.

He only is the Maker
Of all things near and far;
He paints the wayside flower;
He lights the evening star;
The winds and waves obey Him,
By Him the birds are fed;
Much more to us, His children,
He gives our daily bread.
All good gifts around us, &c.

We thank Thee then, O Father,
For all things bright and good,
The seed-time and the harvest,
Our life, our health, our food.
Accept the gifts we offer
For all Thy love imparts,
And, what Thou most desirest,
Our humble, thankful hearts.
All good gifts around us, &c.

HOLY offerings, rich and rare,
Offerings of praise and prayer,
Purer life and purpose high,
Claspèd hands, uplifted eye,
Lowly acts of adoration
To the God of our salvation—
On His altar laid we leave them:
Christ, present them! God, receive them!

Promises in sorrow made,
Left, alas! too long unpaid,
Fervent wishes, earnest thought,
Never into action wrought—
Long withheld, we now restore them,
On Thy holy altar pour them,
There in trembling faith to leave them:
Christ, present them! God, receive them!

Vows and longings, hopes and fears,
Broken-hearted sighs and tears,
Dreams of what we yet might be,
Could we cling more close to Thee,
Which, despite of faults and failings,
Help Thy grace in its prevailings—
On Thine altar laid we leave them:
Christ, present them! God, receive them!

Sinful thoughts and wilful ways,
Love of self and human praise,
Pride of life and lust of eye,
Worldly pomp and vanity—
Faults that let and will not leave us,
Though their staying sorely grieve us,
Help, O help us to outlive them;
Christ, atone for, God, forgive them!

The golden sunshine, vernal air, Sweet flowers and fruits, Thy love declare; When harvests ripen, Thou art there, Giver of all.

For peaceful homes and healthful days, For all the blessings earth displays, We owe Thee thankfulness and praise, Giver of all.

Thou didst not spare Thine only Son, But gav'st Him for a world undone, And freely with that Blessèd One Thou givest all.

Thou giv'st the Holy Spirit's dower, Spirit of life and love and power, And dost His sevenfold graces shower Upon us all.

For souls redeemed, for sins forgiven, For means of grace, and hopes of heaven, Father, what can to Thee be given Who givest all?

We lose what on ourselves we spend; We have as treasure without end Whatever, Lord, to Thee we lend, Who givest all;

To Thee, from whom we all derive Our life, our gifts, our power to give: O may we ever with Thee live, Giver of all!

LORD of glory, who hast bought us
With Thy life-blood as the price,
Never grudging for the lost ones
That tremendous sacrifice,
And with that hast freely given
Blessings countless as the sand
To the unthankful and the evil
With Thine own unsparing hand;

Grant us hearts, dear Lord, to yield Thee Gladly, freely of Thine own;
With the sunshine of Thy goodness
Melt our thankless hearts of stone;
Till our cold and selfish natures,
Warmed by Thee, at length believe
That more happy and more blessed
'Tis to give than to receive.

Wondrous honour hast Thou given
To our humblest charity
In Thine own mysterious sentence,
"Ye have done it unto Me."
Can it be, O gracious Master,
Thou dost deign for alms to sue,
Saying, by Thy poor and needy,
"Give as I have given to you?"

Yes, the sorrow and the suffering,
Which on every hand we see,
Channels are for tithes and offerings
Due by solemn right to Thee;
Right of which we may not rob Thee,
Debt we may not choose but pay,
Lest that face of love and pity
Turn from us another day.

Lord of glory, who hast bought us
With Thy life-blood as the price,
Never grudging for the lost ones
That tremendous sacrifice,
Give us faith, to trust Thee boldly,
Hope, to stay our souls on Thee;
But, O best of all Thy graces,
Give us Thine own charity.

FROM Greenland's icy mountains,
From India's coral strand,
Where Afric's sunny fountains
Roll down their golden sand,
From many an ancient river,
From many a palmy plain,
They call us to deliver
Their land from error's chain.

What though the spicy breezes
Blow soft o'er Ceylon's isle,
Though every prospect pleases,
And only man is vile?
In vain with lavish kindness
The gifts of God are strown;
The heathen, in his blindness,
Bows down to wood and stone.

Can we, whose souls are lighted
With wisdom from on high,
Can we to men benighted
The lamp of life deny?
Salvation! O salvation!
The joyful sound proclaim,
Till each remotest nation
Has learnt Messiah's name.

Waft, waft, ye winds, His story,
And you, ye waters, roll,
Till, like a sea of glory,
It spreads from pole to pole:
Till o'er our ransomed nature
The Lamb for sinners slain,
Redeemer, King, Creator,
In bliss returns to reign.

HILLS of the north, rejoice;
River and mountain spring,
Hark to the advent voice;
Valley and lowland, sing:
Though absent long, your Lord is nigh:
He judgment brings and victory.

Isles of the southern seas,
Deep in your coral caves
Pent be each warring breeze,
Lulled be your restless waves:
He comes to reign with boundless sway
And make your wastes His great highway.

Lands of the east, awake;
Soon shall your sons be free;
The sleep of ages break,
And rise to liberty.
On your far hills, long cold and gray,
Has dawned the everlasting day.

Shores of the utmost west,
Ye that have waited long,
Unvisited, unblest,
Break forth to swelling song:
High raise the note, that Jesus died,
Yet lives and reigns, the Crucified.

Shout while ye journey home,
Songs be in every mouth;
Lo, from the north we come,
From east, and west, and south.
City of God, the bond are free:
We come to live and reign in Thee.

Lord, shall we come? and come again?
Oft as we see you table spread,
And, tokens of Thy dying pain,
The wine poured out, the broken bread,
Bless, bless, O Lord, Thy children's prayer,
That they may come and find Thee there.

Lord, shall we come? not thus alone
At holy time, or solemn rite,
But every hour till life be flown,
Through weal or woe, in gloom or light,
Come to Thy throne of grace, that we

But the soul in contemplation
Utters earnest prayer and strong,
Breaking at the resurrection

Thenceforth nothing shall divide,
Waking up in Christ's own likeness
Satisfied.

Leave we now Thy servant sleeping.

There no more the powers of hell Can prevail to mar their peace; Christ the Lord shall guard them well, He who died for their release. Father, in Thy gracious keeping Leave we now Thy servant sleeping.

"Earth to earth and dust to dust"—Calmly now the words we say,
Leaving him to sleep in trust
Till the resurrection day.
Father, in Thy gracious keeping
Leave we now Thy servant sleeping.

PRAISE to our God, whose bounteous hand Prepared of old our glorious land, A garden fenced with silver sea, A people prosperous, strong, and free.

Praise to our God! Through all the past His mighty arm hath held us fast, Till wars and perils, toils and tears, Have brought the rich and peaceful years.

Praise to our God! The vine He set Within our coasts is fruitful yet; On many a shore her seedlings grow; 'Neath many a sun her clusters glow.

Praise to our God! His power alone Can keep unmoved our ancient throne, Sustained by counsels wise and just, And guarded by a people's trust.

Praise to our God! Though chastenings stern Our evil dross should throughly burn, His rod and staff from age to age Shall rule and guide His heritage.

TO Thee our God we fly
For mercy and for grace:
O hear our lowly cry,
And hide not Thou Thy face.
O Lord, stretch forth Thy mighty hand,
And guard and bless our fatherland.

Arise, O Lord of hosts;
Be jealous for Thy name,
And drive from out our coasts
The sins that put to shame.
O Lord, stretch forth Thy mighty hand,
And guard and bless our fatherland.

The powers ordained by Thee
With heavenly wisdom bless;
May they Thy servants be
And rule in righteousness.
O Lord, stretch forth Thy mighty hand,
And guard and bless our fatherland.

Give peace, Lord, in our time;
O let no foe draw nigh,
Nor lawless deed of crime
Insult Thy Majesty.
O Lord, stretch forth Thy mighty hand,
And guard and bless our fatherland.

Though vile and worthless, still
Thy people, Lord, are we;
And for our God we will
None other have but Thee.
O Lord, stretch forth Thy mighty hand,
And guard and bless our fatherland.

FATHER, let me dedicate
All my times to Thee,
In whatever worldly state
Thou wilt have me be.
Not from sorrow, pain, or care
Freedom dare I claim;
This alone shall be my prayer—
Glorify Thy name.

Can a child presume to choose
Where or how to live?
Can a Father's love refuse
All the best to give?
More Thou givest every day
Than the best can claim,
Nor withholdest aught that may
Glorify Thy name.

If in mercy Thou wilt spare
Joys that yet are mine;
If on life, serene and fair,
Brighter rays may shine;
Let my glad heart, while it sings,
Thee in all proclaim,
And, whate'er the future brings,
Glorify Thy name.

If Thou callest to the cross,
And its shadow come,
Turning all my gain to loss,
Shrouding heart and home;
Let me think how Thy dear Son
To His glory came,
And in deepest woe pray on,
"Glorify Thy name."

LORD, behold us with Thy blessing,
Once again assembled here;
Onward be our footsteps pressing,
In Thy love and faith and fear:
Still protect us
By Thy presence ever near.

For Thy mercy we adore Thee,
For this rest upon our way:
Lord, again we bow before Thee,
Speed our labours day by day:
Mind and spirit
With Thy choicest gifts array.

Keep the spell of home-affection
Still alive in every heart;
May its power, with mild direction,
Draw our love from self apart;
Till Thy children
Feel that Thou their Father art.

Break temptation's fatal power,
Shielding all with guardian care,
Safe in every careless hour,
Safe from sloth and sensual snare:
Thou, our Saviour,
Still our failing strength repair.

LORD, dismiss us with Thy blessing;
Thanks for mercies past receive;
Pardon all, their faults confessing;
Time that's lost may all retrieve;
May Thy children
Ne'er again Thy Spirit grieve.

Bless Thou all our days of leisure;
Help us selfish lures to flee;
Sanctify our every pleasure,
Pure and spotless may it be;
May our gladness
Draw us evermore to Thee.

By Thy kindly influence cherish
All the good we here have gained;
May all taint of evil perish,
By Thy mightier power restrained;
Seek we ever
Knowledge pure and love unfeigned.

Let Thy Father-hand be shielding
All who here shall meet no more;
May their seed-time past be yielding
Year by year a richer store;
Those returning
Make more faithful than before.

THOU Lord of hosts, whose guiding hand Hath brought us here before Thy face, Our spirits wait for Thy command, Our silent hearts implore Thy grace.

Again we lay our noblest powers

As offerings on Thy holy shrine:

Thine was the strength that nourished ours;

The soldiers of the cross are Thine.

And now with hymn and prayer we stand
To give our strength to Thee, great God.
We would redeem Thy holy land,
That land which sin so long has trod.

Send us where'er Thou wilt, O Lord,
Through rugged toil and wearying fight:
Thy conquering love shall be our sword,
And faith in Thee our truest might.

Send down Thy constant aid, we pray;
Be Thy pure angels with us still;
Thy truth, be that our firmest stay;
Our only rest, to do Thy will.

202.

FATHER, to Thee our life is owing;
And, when each birth-tide's morn appears,
From Thee our home-delights are flowing,
With all which earthly love endears,
While joyous faces round us press,
To share and swell our happiness.

Yet purer joys and nobler meetings
Wait on the spirit's natal day;
While friends above, with angel-greetings,
Welcome its flight from mortal clay;
And happy souls, redeemed from earth,
Hail one more spirit's hour of birth.

And bright each Sunday morn that shineth,
O Saviour, on Thy church below:
Yet e'en its holiest bliss declineth
Before the joys Thine angels know,
Before that glorious Sabbath-rest,
With which Thy church in heaven is blest.

E'en thus, full many a gracious blessing
Thou, Lord, hast given to sense and sight;
And blest is he, these gifts possessing,
Who uses all in Thee aright,
Who owns from Thee such boons divine,
"Hath seen," and "hath believed" them Thine.

Yet doubly blest, by faith ascending
Beyond the gaze of mortal eye,
Who grasps, on Thy sure word depending,
Each viewless, great reality,
"Not seen" as yet, not yet received;
Hath trusted Thee, and "hath believed!"

H. J. BUCKOLL, 1843.

^{*} Dr. Arnold died on Sunday, June 12, 1842; the next day would have been his 47th birthday. At the beginning of the short illness which caused his death, he repeated the words: "And Jesus said unto him, Thomas, because thou hast seen thou hast believed; blessed are they who have not seen and yet have believed." FATHER, hear Thy children's praises
For the boon we own to-day;
Grateful love our hearts upraises,
This our sacrifice to pay:

Thanks for all Thy mercies given,
Stores of knowledge here unrolled,
Means of grace, and hopes of heaven,
Unto us, Thy chosen fold.

Lord, Thy servants' spirits turning, Mould them by Thy gracious sway: Godliness and all good learning May we follow, day by day.

May we, these Thy bounties sharing, Every talent use aright, Still by earthly lore preparing, Till our faith be turned to sight;

Till, undimmed by dark reflection,
Face to face shall Christ be shown;
Knowledge rise to full perfection,
Knowing e'en as we are known.

O JESU, strong and pure and true, Before Thy feet we bow; The grace of earlier years renew, And lead us onward now.

The joyous life that year by year
Within these walls is stored,
The golden hope, the gladsome cheer,
We bring to Thee, O Lord.

Our faith endow with keener powers, With warmer glow our love, And draw these halting hearts of ours From earth to heaven above.

In paths our bravest ones have trod O make us brave to go, That we may give our lives to God In serving man below.

Scorn we the selfish aim and choice, And love's high precept keep, "Rejoice with those that do rejoice, And weep with those that weep."

So hence shall flow fresh strength and grace, As from a full-fed spring, To make the world a better place, And life a worthier thing.

O LIGHT, from age to age the same, Thou ever living Word, Here have we felt Thy kindling flame, Thy voice within have heard.

Here holy thought and hymn and prayer
Have winged the spirit's powers,
And made these walls divinely fair,
Thy temple, Lord, and ours.

What visions rise above the years!
What tender memories throng!
Till the eye fills with happy tears,
The heart with happy song.

Vanish the mists of time and sense;
They come, the loved of yore,
And one encircling Providence
Holds all for evermore.

O not in vain their toil, who wrought To build faith's sacred shrine; Nor theirs, whose steadfast love and thought Have watched the fire divine.

Burn, holy fire, and shine more wide:
While systems rise and fall,
Faith, hope, and charity abide,
The heart and soul of all.

(PSALM XVIII.)

O GOD, my Strength and Fortitude, Of force I must love Thee: Thou art my Castle and Defence In my necessity,

My God, my Rock in whom I trust,
The Worker of my wealth,
My Refuge, Buckler, and my Shield,
The Horn of all my health.

I when beset with pain and grief
Did pray to God for grace;
And He forthwith did hear my plaint
Out of His holy place.

The Lord descended from above,
And bowed the heavens on high,
And underneath His feet He cast
The darkness of the sky.

On Cherubim and Seraphim
Full royally He rode,
And on the wings of mighty winds
Came flying all abroad.

(PSALM XIX.)

THE spacious firmament on high,
With all the blue ethereal sky,
And spangled heavens, a shining frame,
Their great Original proclaim.
The unwearied sun, from day to day,
Does his Creator's power display,
And publishes to every land
The work of an almighty hand.

Soon as the evening shades prevail,
The moon takes up the wondrous tale,
And nightly to the listening earth
Repeats the story of her birth;
Whilst all the stars that round her burn,
And all the planets in their turn,
Confirm the tidings as they roll,
And spread the truth from pole to pole.

What though in solemn silence all Move round the dark terrestrial ball? What though no real voice or sound Amidst their radiant orbs be found? In reason's ear they all rejoice, And utter forth a glorious voice, For ever singing, as they shine, "The hand that made us is divine."

O magnify the Lord with me, With me exalt His name; When in distress to Him I called, He to my rescue came.

To Him shall endless prayer be made, And princes throng to crown His head; His name like sweet perfume shall rise With every morning sacrifice;

People and realms of every tongue Dwell on His love with sweetest song; And infant voices shall proclaim Their early blessings on His name.

Blessings abound where'er He reigns: The prisoner leaps to lose his chains, The weary find eternal rest, And all the sons of want are blest.

Let every creature rise and bring Peculiar honours to our King; Angels descend with songs again; And earth repeat the loud Amen.

O Lord of hosts, my King and God, How highly blest are they Who in Thy temple always dwell, And there Thy praise display!

Thrice happy they whose choice has Thee

With all tones of waters blending,
Glorious is the breaking deep;
Glorious, beauteous, without ending,
God who reigns on heaven's high steep.
Hallelujah!
Songs of ocean never sleep.

O COME, loud anthems let us sing, Loud thanks to our almighty King; For we our voices high should raise, When our salvation's Rock we praise.

Into His presence let us haste,
To thank Him for His favours past;
To Him address in joyful songs
The praise that to His name belongs.

The depths of earth are in His hand, Her secret wealth at His command; The strength of hills that reach the skies Subjected to His empire lies.

The rolling ocean's vast abyss
By the same sovereign right is His;

The Lord, ye know, is God indeed;
Without our aid He did us make:
We are His folk, He doth us feed,
And for His sheep He doth us take.

O enter then His gates with praise;
Approach with joy His courts unto;
Praise, laud, and bless His name always,
For it is seemly so to do.

For why? the Lord our God is good, His mercy is for ever sure; His truth at all times firmly stood, And shall from age to age endure.

And when like wandering sheep we strayed,
He brought us to His fold again.

We'll crowd Thy gates with thankful songs, High as the heavens our voices raise; And earth, with her ten thousand tongues, Shall fill Thy courts with sounding praise.

Wide as the world is Thy command,
Vast as eternity Thy love;
Firm as a rock Thy truth shall stand,

PRAISE, my soul, the King of heaven
To His feet thy tribute bring;
Ransomed, healed, restored, forgiven,
Who like thee His praise shall sing?
Praise Him, praise Him,
Praise the everlasting King.

Praise Him for His grace and favour To our fathers in distress; Praise Him, still the same as ever, Slow to chide and swift to bless; Praise Him, praise Him, Glorious in His faithfulness.

Father-like He tends and spares us;
Well our feeble frame He knows;
In His hands He gently bears us,
Rescues us from all our foes:
Praise Him, praise Him,
Widely as His mercy flows.

Angels, help us to adore Him;

Sun and moon, bow down before Him;
Dwellers all in time and space,
Praise Him, praise Him,
Praise with us the God of grace.

(PSALM CIV.)

O WORSHIP the King, All-glorious above; O gratefully sing His power and His love; Our Shield and Defender, The Ancient of days, Pavilioned in splendour, And girded with praise.

O tell of His might,
O sing of His grace,
Whose robe is the light,
Whose canopy space;
His chariots of wrath
Deep thunder-clouds form,
And dark is His path
On the wings of the storm.

Frail children of dust,
And feeble as frail,
In Thee do we trust,
Nor find Thee to fail.
Thy mercies, how tender!
How firm to the end!
Our Maker, Defender,
Redeemer, and Friend.

O measureless Might,
Ineffable Love:
While angels delight
To hymn Thee above,
Thy ransomed creation,
Though feeble their lays,
With true adoration
Shall sing to Thy praise.

Praise Him, angels, in the height;
Sun and moon, rejoice before Him;
Praise Him, all ye stars and light.
Praise the Lord, for He hath spoken:
Worlds His mighty voice obeyed:

Praise the Lord, for He is glorious;
Never shall His promise fail:

Heaven, and earth, and all creation,
Laud and magnify His name.

Worship, honour, glory, blessing,
Lord, we offer unto Thee:
Young and old, Thy praise confessing,
In glad homage bend the knee.
As the saints in heaven adore Thee,
We would bow before Thy throne;
As Thine angels serve before Thee,
So on earth Thy will be done.

HARK, the song of jubilee,
Loud as mighty thunder's roar,
Or the fulness of the sea
When it breaks upon the shore!
Hallelujah! for the Lord
God Omnipotent shall reign;
Hallelujah! let the word
Echo round the earth and main.

Hallelujah! hark, the sound
From the depths unto the skies
Wakes above, beneath, around,
All creation's harmonies.
See Jehovah's banners furled,
Sheathed His sword; He speaks, 'tis done;
And the kingdoms of this world
Are the kingdoms of His Son.

He shall reign from pole to pole,
With illimitable sway;
He shall reign, when like a scroll
Yonder heavens have passed away.
Then the end:—beneath His rod
Man's last enemy shall fall:
Hallelujah! Christ in God,

I PRAISED the earth, in beauty seen, With garlands gay of various green; I praised the sea, whose ample field Shone glorious as a silver shield; And earth and ocean seemed to say "Our beauties are but for a day."

I praised the sun, whose chariot rolled On wheels of amber and of gold; I praised the moon, whose softer eye Gleamed sweetly through the summer sky And moon and sun in answer said "Our days of light are numbered."

O God, O good beyond compare,
If thus Thy meaner works are fair,
If thus Thy bounties gild the span
Of ruined earth and sinful man,
How glorious must the mansion be
Where Thy redeemed shall dwell with Thee!

BISHOP HEBER, d. 1826.

224.

WE thank Thee, Lord, for this fair earth, The glittering sky, the silver sea; For all their beauty, all their worth, Their light and glory, come from Thee.'

Thanks for the flowers that clothe the ground,
The trees that wave their arms above,
The hills that gird our dwellings round,
As Thou dost gird Thine own with love.

Yet teach us still how far more fair,
More glorious, Father, in Thy sight,
Is one pure deed, one holy prayer,
One heart that owns Thy Spirit's might.

So while we gaze with thoughtful eye
On all the gifts Thy love has given,
Help us in Thee to live and die,
By Thee to rise from earth to heaven.

God is our Strength and Song, And His salvation ours: Then be His love in Christ proclaimed With all our ransomed powers.

NOW thank we all our God
With hearts and hands and voices,
Who wondrous things hath done,
In whom His world rejoices;
Who from our mother's arms
Hath blessed us on our way
With countless gifts of love,
And still is ours to-day.

O may this bounteous God
Through all our life be near us,
With ever joyful hearts
And blessed peace to cheer us;
And keep us in His grace,
And guide us when perplexed,
And free us from all ills
In this world and the next.

All praise and thanks to God,
The Father, now be given,
The Son, and Him who reigns
With Them in highest heaven,
The one eternal God,

227.

WE love the place, O God, Wherein Thine honour dwells; The joy of Thine abode All earthly joy excels.

It is the house of prayer, Wherein Thy servants meet; And Thou, O Lord, art there Thy chosen flock to greet.

We love Thine altar, Lord; O what on earth so dear? For there, in faith adored, We find Thy presence near.

We love the word of life, The word that tells of peace, Of comfort in the strife, And joys that never cease.

We love to sing below For mercies freely given; But O we long to know The triumph-song of heaven.

Lord Jesus, give us grace On earth to love Thee more, In heaven to see Thy face, And with Thy saints adore.

LORD, we thank Thee for the pleasure
That our happy lifetime gives,
The inestimable treasure
Of a soul that ever lives;
Mind that looks before and after,
Yearning for its home above,
Human tears, and human laughter,
And the depth of human love;

For the thrill, the leap, the gladness
Of our pulses flowing free:
E'en for every touch of sadness
That may bring us nearer Thee;
But above all other kindness,
Thine unutterable love,
Which, to heal our sin and blindness,
Sent Thy dear Son from above.

Teach us so our days to number,
That we may be early wise;
Dreamy mist, or cloud of slumber,
Never dull our heavenward eyes;
Hearty be our work, and willing,
As to Thee, and not to men,
For we know our soul's fulfilling
Is in heaven;—not till then.

SAVIOUR, Source of every blessing,
Tune my heart to hallowed lays:
Streams of mercy never ceasing
Call for ceaseless songs of praise.
Teach me some melodious measure
Sung by raptured saints above;
Fill my soul with sacred pleasure,
While I celebrate Thy love.

Thou didst seek me when a stranger,
Wandering from the fold of God,
And, to rescue me from danger,
Didst redeem me with Thy blood;
Safe thus far, by Thee defended,
In my stage of life I'm come;
Safe, O Lord, when life is ended,
Bring me to my heavenly home.

Varied from ROBERT ROBINSON, 1758.

WHEN all Thy mercies, O my God, My rising soul surveys, Transported with the view, I'm lost In wonder, love, and praise.

Unnumbered comforts to my soul
Thy tender care bestowed,
Before my infant heart conceived
From whom those comforts flowed.

When worn with sickness, oft hast Thou With health renewed my face; And, when in sins and sorrows sunk, Revived my soul with grace.

Ten thousand thousand precious gifts My daily thanks employ; Nor is the least a cheerful heart, That tastes those gifts with joy.

Through every period of my life
Thy goodness I'll pursue;
And after death, in distant worlds,
The glorious theme renew.

Through all eternity to Thee A joyful song I'll raise; For O eternity's too short To utter all Thy praise.

With angels round the throne:
Ten thousand thousand are their tongues,
But all their joys are one.

- "Worthy the Lamb that died," they cry,
 "To be exalted thus!"
- "Worthy the Lamb," our lips reply,
 "For He was slain for us!"

Jesus is worthy to receive
Honour and power divine,
And blessings, more than we can give,
Be, Lord, for ever Thine.

Let all that dwell above the sky,
And air, and earth, and seas,
Conspire to lift Thy glories high,
And speak Thine endless praise.

To bless the sacred name
Of Him that sits upon the throne,
And to adore the Lamb.

Jesu, too late I Thee have sought;
How can I love Thee as I ought?
And how extol Thy matchless fame,
The glorious beauty of Thy name?

Jesu, what didst Thou find in me,
That Thou hast dealt so lovingly?
How great the joy that Thou hast brought,
So far exceeding hope or thought!

How charming is their voice, How sweet the tidings are! "Zion, behold thy Saviour King; He reigns and triumphs here."

How happy are our ears,
That hear this joyful sound,
Which kings and prophets waited for,
And sought, but never found!

How blessed are our eyes,

Songs of praise the angels sang,

GERMAN.

SONGS of praise the angels sang, Heaven with hallelujahs rang, When Jehovah's work begun, When He spake, and it was done.

Songs of praise awoke the morn When the Prince of Peace was born; Songs of praise arose when He Captive led captivity.

Heaven and earth must pass away; Songs of praise shall crown that day: God will make new heavens, new earth; Songs of praise shall hail their birth.

And shall man alone be dumb,
Till that glorious kingdom come?
No; the church delights to raise
Psalms and hymns and songs of praise.

Saints below, with heart and voice, Still in songs of praise rejoice, Learning here by faith and love Songs of praise to sing above.

Borne upon their latest breath, Songs of praise shall conquer death; Then, amidst eternal joy, Songs of praise their powers employ.

Sun of our life, Thy quickening ray Sheds on our path the glow of day; Star of our hope, Thy softened light Cheers the long watches of the night.

Our midnight is Thy smile withdrawn, Our noontide is Thy gracious dawn, Our rainbow arch Thy mercy sign, All, save the clouds of sin, are Thine.

Lord of all life, below, above, Whose light is truth, whose warmth is love, Before Thy ever-blazing throne We ask no lustre of our own.

MY God, how wonderful Thou art, Thy majesty how bright! How beautiful Thy mercy-seat, In depths of burning light!

How dread are Thine eternal years, O everlasting Lord, By prostrate spirits day and night Incessantly adored!

How wonderful, how beautiful,
The sight of Thee must be,
Thine endless wisdom, boundless power,
And awful purity!

O how I fear Thee, living God, With deepest, tenderest fears, And worship Thee with trembling hope, And penitential tears!

Yet I may love Thee too, O Lord,

The Lord of might and mercy came,
Shouts of joy were heard on high,
And the stars sang from the sky
Glory to God in heaven.

There was joy in heaven!
There was joy in heaven,
When the billows, heaving dark,
Sank around the stranded ark,
And the rainbow's watery span
Spake of mercy, hope to man,
And peace with God in heaven.

There was joy in heaven!
There was joy in heaven,
When the glorious midnight beam
Broke on the towers of Bethlehem,
And along the echoing hill
Angels sang, "On earth goodwill,
And glory in the heaven!"

There is joy in heaven!
There is joy in heaven,
When the soul that went astray
Turns to Christ, the living Way,
And, by grace of heaven subdued,
Breathes its prayer of gratitude,
Then is there joy in heaven.

All we hope to be,
Body, soul and spirit,

Farther, ever farther,
From Thy wounded side,
Heedlessly we wandered,
Wandered far and wide;
Till Thou cam'st in mercy
Seeking young and old,
Lovingly to bear them,

Nearer, ever nearer,

Deep in adoration
Bending low the knee.

Cam'st on earth to die;

Worn by saints before us,
Journeying on to God;

O loving wisdom of our God!
When all was sin and shame,
A second Adam to the fight
And to the rescue came.

O wisest love! that flesh and blood, Which did in Adam fail, Should strive afresh against the foe, Should strive and should prevail;

And that a higher gift than grace Should flesh and blood refine, God's presence and His very Self, And essence all-divine.

O generous love! that He, who smote In Man for man the foe, The double agony in Man For man should undergo;

And in the garden secretly,
And on the cross on high,
Should teach His brethren, and inspire
To suffer and to die.

WHEN the day of toil is done, When the race of life is run, Father, grant Thy wearied one Rest for evermore.

When the strife of sin is stilled, When the foe within is killed, Be Thy gracious word fulfilled, Peace for evermore.

When the darkness melts away, At the breaking of Thy day, Bid us hail the cheering ray, Light for evermore.

When the heart, by sorrow tried, Feels at length its throbs subside, Bring us, where all tears are dried, Joy for evermore.

When for vanished days we yearn,
Days that never can return,
Teach us in Thy love to learn
Love for evermore.

When the breath of life is flown,
When the grave must claim his own,
Lord of life, be ours Thy crown,
Life for evermore.

Be Thou my Guardian and my Guide,

I. SMITH.

259.

BE Thou our Guardian and our Guide, And hear us when we call; Let not our slippery footsteps slide; And hold us lest we fall.

The world, the flesh, and Satan dwell Around the path we tread; O save us from the snares of hell, Thou Quickener of the dead.

And if we tempted are to sin,
And outward things are strong,
Do Thou, O Lord, keep watch within,
And save our souls from wrong.

Still let us ever watch and pray,
And feel that we are frail;
That if the tempter cross our way,
Yet he may not prevail.

To Father, Son, and Holy Ghost, The God whom we adore, Be glory, as it was, is now, And shall be evermore.

ISAAC WILLIAMS, 1842.

MY God, my Father, while I stray
Far from my home on life's rough way,
O teach me from my heart to say,
Thy will be done.

Though dark my path and sad my lot, Let me be still, and murmur not, Or breathe the prayer divinely taught, Thy will be done.

If Thou shouldst call me to resign
What most I prize, it ne'er was mine;
I only yield Thee what was Thine:
Thy will be done.

Let but my fainting heart be blest With Thy sweet Spirit for its Guest, My God, to Thee I leave the rest: Thy will be done.

Renew my will from day to day; Blend it with Thine, and take away All that now makes it hard to say, Thy will be done.

Then, when on earth I breathe no more, The prayer, oft mixed with tears before, I'll sing upon a happier shore, Thy will be done.

THE ROSEATE HUES.

The roseate hues of early dawn,

Sir J. STAINER.

261.

THE roseate hues of early dawn,
The brightness of the day,
The crimson of the sunset sky,
How fast they fade away!
O for the pearly gates of heaven!
O for the golden floor!
O for the Sun of Righteousness
That setteth nevermore!

The highest hopes we cherish here,
How fast they tire and faint!
How many a spot defiles the robe
That wraps an earthly saint!
O for a heart that never sins,
O for a soul washed white!
O for a voice to praise our King,
Nor weary day or night!

Here faith is ours, and heavenly hope,
And grace to lead us higher;
But there are perfectness and peace
Beyond our best desire.
O by Thy love and anguish, Lord,
O by Thy life laid down,
O that we fall not from Thy grace,
Nor cast away our crown!

O FOR a heart to praise my God,
A heart from sin set free,
A heart that's sprinkled with the blood
So freely shed for me;

A heart resigned, submissive, meek, My great Redeemer's throne, Where only Christ is heard to speak, Where Jesus reigns alone;

A lowly, humble, contrite heart,
Believing, true and clean;
Which neither life nor death can part
From Him that dwells within;

A heart in every thought renewed,
And full of love divine;
Perfect and right and pure and good,
A copy, Lord, of Thine!

Thy nature, gracious Lord, impart;
Come quickly from above;
Write Thy new name upon my heart,
Thy new best name of love.

LORD, when we bend before Thy throne, And our confessions pour, Teach us to feel the sins we own, And hate what we deplore.

Our broken spirits pitying see;
True penitence impart;
Then let a kindling glance from Thee
Beam hope upon the heart.

When we disclose our wants in prayer, May we our wills resign, And not a thought our bosoms share, Which is not wholly Thine.

May faith each weak petition fill,
And waft it to the skies,
And teach our hearts 'tis goodness still
That grants it or denies.

O GOD of Bethel, by whose hand Thy people still are fed; Who through this weary pilgrimage Hast all our fathers led;

Our vows, our prayers, we now present Before Thy throne of grace: God of our fathers, be the God Of their succeeding race.

Through each perplexing path of life Our wandering footsteps guide; Give us each day our daily bread, Our heavenly food provide.

O spread Thy covering wings around, Till all our wanderings cease, And at our Father's loved abode Our souls arrive in peace.

Such blessings from Thy gracious hand Our humble prayers implore; And Thou shalt be our chosen God, And Portion evermore.

Twice blest will all our blessings be, When we can look through them to Thee; When each glad heart its tribute pays Of love and gratitude and praise.

Yet may we, feeble, weak, and frail, Against our mightiest foes prevail, Thy word our safety from alarm, Our strength Thine everlasting arm.

If our God our Father be.

Saviour, breathe forgiveness o'er us;
All our weakness Thou dost know;
Thou didst tread this earth before us,
Thou didst feel its keenest woe;
Lone and dreary,
Faint and weary,
Through the desert Thou didst go.

Spirit of our God, descending,
Fill our hearts with heavenly joy,
Love with every passion blending,
Pleasure that can never cloy:
Thus provided,
Pardoned, guided,
Nothing can our peace destroy.

Peace in our hearts, our evil thoughts assuaging,
Peace in Thy church, where brothers are engaging,
Peace, when the world its busy war is waging,

MY Lord, my God, if fear or shame
Drive from my lips Thy praise divine;
If, when a cold world scorns Thy name,
I stand not forth to own Thee mine;
If faithless doubts my soul assail,
Or sins have made me false to Thee;
As once on Thy disciple frail,
So turn, dear Lord, and look on me.

Cast but one kind reproachful look,
And make me all the past recall,
Thy love that never me forsook,
Thy grace that would not let me fall,
Thy life that taught me how to live,
Thy death that conquered death for me.
O Lord, my wanderings past forgive:
From such a friend no more I flee.

O let me feel Thee watching still,
With eyes that slumber not nor sleep;
From every step in paths of ill
That look shall call me back to weep.
Look ever on me till I come
Where I no more can fall from Thee;
Then in the heavenly Father's home
With Thy salvation look on me.

Songs of prayer and songs of praise.

Light and love and life are Thine,
Great Creator of all good;
Fill our souls with light divine;
Give us with our daily food
Blessings from Thy heavenly store,
Blessings rich for evermore.

Graft within our heart of hearts
Love undying for Thy name;
Bid us ere the day departs
Spread afar our Maker's fame;
Young and old together bless,
Clothe our souls with righteousness.

Full of love and full of peace,
May our life on earth be blest;
When our trials here shall cease,
And at last we sink to rest,
Fountain of eternal love,
Call us to our home above.

GO when the morning shineth,
Go when the noon is bright,
Go when the eve declineth,
Go in the hush of night;
Go with pure mind and feeling,
Fling earthly thoughts away,
And in thy chamber kneeling,
Do thou in secret pray.

Remember all who love thee,
All who are loved by thee;
Pray too for those that hate thee,
If any such there be;
Then for thyself in meekness
A blessing humbly claim;
And link with each petition
Thy great Redeemer's name.

And if 'tis e'er denied thee
In solitude to pray,
Should holy thoughts come o'er thee
When friends are round thy way,
E'en then the silent breathing
Of thy spirit raised above
Shall reach His throne of glory,
Who is mercy, truth, and love.

O not a joy or blessing
With this can we compare,
The power that He hath given us
To pour our souls in prayer.
Whene'er thou pin'st in sadness,
Before His footstool fall:
Remember in thy gladness
His love who gave thee all.

"COME to a desert-place apart,
And rest a little while":
So spake the Lord, when limbs and heart
Waxed faint and sick through toil.

What tired nature craved He sought, But, while He sought it, found The restless crowd together brought, And labour's weary round.

Still not a thought to self was given,
Nor murmur from Him came;
He fed their souls with bread from heaven,
And stayed their sinking frame;

Nor turned, when that long task was done, To sleep fatigue away; When on the desert sank the sun, The Saviour waked to pray.

The winds and waves submissive heard,
Who walkedst on the foaming deep,
And calm amid its rage didst sleep;

Glad hymns of praise from land and sea.

Our contrite hearts we raise,
Unstrung by sin and pain,
Long voiceless in Thy praise;
Breathe Thou the silent chords along,
Until they tremble into song.

Father of all, to Thee
We breathe unuttered fears,
Deep-hidden in our souls,
That have no voice but tears;
Take Thou our hand, and through the wild
Lead gently on each trustful child.

Father of all, may we

HORATIUS BONAR, 186

O GOD of truth, whose living Word Upholds whate'er has breath, Look down on Thy creation, Lord, Enslaved by sin and death.

Set up Thy standard, Lord, that we
Who claim a heavenly birth
May march with Thee to smite the lies
That vex Thy groaning earth.

Ah! would we join that blest array,
And follow in the might
Of Him, the faithful and the true,
In raiment clean and white?

How can we fight for truth and God, Enthralled by lies and sin? He who would fight for Thee on earth Must first be true within.

Then, God of truth for whom we long, Thou who wilt hear our prayer, Do Thine own battle in our hearts, And slay the falsehood there.

So, tried in Thy refining fire,
From every lie set free,

O THOU who makest souls to shine With light from brighter worlds above, And droppest glistening dew divine On all who seek a Saviour's love:

Do Thou Thy benediction give
On all who teach, on all who learn,
That all Thy church may holier live,
And every lamp more brightly burn.

Give those that teach pure hearts and wise, Faith, hope, and love, all warmed by prayer: Themselves first training for the skies, They best will raise their people there.

Give those that learn the willing ear,

Such gifts will make the lowliest here
Far better than a kingdom find.

PRAYER is the soul's sincere desire, Uttered or unexpressed, The motion of a hidden fire That trembles in the breast.

Prayer is the burden of a sigh, The falling of a tear, The upward glancing of an eye, When none but God is near.

Prayer is the simplest form of speech
That infant lips can try,
Prayer the sublimest strains that reach
The Majesty on high.

Prayer is the Christian's vital breath,
The Christian's native air,
His watchword at the gates of death;
He enters heaven with prayer.

Prayer is the contrite sinner's voice, Returning from his ways; While angels in their songs rejoice, And cry, "Behold, he prays!"

O Thou by whom we come to God, The Life, the Truth, the Way, The path of prayer Thyself hast trod: Lord, teach us how to pray.

Prayo.

Fair waved the golden corn

H. J. GAUNTLETT, Mus. Doc.

293.

FAIR waved the golden corn In Canaan's pleasant land, When, full of joy, some shining morn Went forth the reaper-band.

To God, so good and great,
Their cheerful thanks they pour;
Then carry to His temple-gate
The choicest of their store.

Like Israel, Lord, we give Our earliest fruits to Thee, And pray that, long as we shall live, We may Thy children be.

Thine is our youthful prime,
And life and all its powers;
Be with us in our morning time,
And bless our evening hours.

In wisdom let us grow,
As years and strength are given,
That we may serve Thy church below,
And join Thy saints in heaven.

J. H. GURNEY, 1851.

294.

NOT for our sins alone
Thy mercy, Lord, we sue;
Let fall Thy pitying glance
On our devotions too,
What we have done for Thee,
And what we think to do.

The holiest hours we spend
In prayer upon our knees,
The times when most we deem
Our songs of praise will please,
Thou Searcher of all hearts,
Forgiveness pour on these.

And all the gifts we bring,
And all the vows we make,
And all the acts of love
We plan for Thy dear sake,
Into Thy pardoning thought,
O God of mercy, take.

And most, when we, Thy flock,
Before Thine altar bend,
And strange, bewildering thoughts
With those sweet moments blend,
By Him whose death we plead,
Good Lord, Thy help extend.

Bow down Thine ear and hear; Open Thine eyes and see; Our very love is shame, And we must come to Thee To make it, of Thy grace, What Thou wouldst have it be.

Almighty Father of all things that be 10.10.10.10.

295.

ALMIGHTY Father of all things that be, Our life, our work, we consecrate to Thee: Whose heavens declare Thy glory from above, Whose earth below is witness to Thy love.

For well we know this weary, soiled earth Is yet Thine own by right of its new birth; Since that great cross upreared on Calvary Redeemed it from its fault and shame to Thee.

Thine still the changeful beauty of the hills, The purple valleys flecked with silver rills, The ocean glistening 'neath the golden rays, They all are Thine, and voiceless speak Thy praise.

Thou dost the strength to workman's arm impart; From Thee the skilled musician's mystic art, The grace of poet's pen or painter's hand To teach the loveliness of sea and land.

Then grant us, Lord, in all things Thee to own, To dwell within the shadow of Thy throne, To speak and work, to think and live and move, Reflecting Thy own nature, which is love.

That so, by Christ redeemed from sin and shame, And hallowed by Thy Spirit's cleansing flame, Ourselves, our work, and all our powers may be A sacrifice acceptable to Thee.

- GIVE light, O Lord, that we may learn The way that leads to Thee, That where our hearts true joys discern, Our life may be.
- Give light, O Lord, that we may know
 Thy one unchanging truth,
 And follow, all our days below,
 Our Guide in youth.

- Give light, O Lord, that we may see
 Where wisdom bids beware,
 And turn our doubting minds to Thee
 In faithful prayer.
- Give light, O Lord, that we may look Beneath, around, above, And learn from nature's living book Thy power and love.
 - Give light, O Lord, that we may read
 All signs that Thou art near,
 And, while we live, in word and deed
 Thy name revere.
 - Give light, O Lord, that we may trace In trial, pain, and loss, In poorest lot and lowest place, A Saviour's cross.
 - Give light, O Lord, that we may see A home beyond the sky, Where all who live in Christ with Thee Shall never die.

Almighty God, Whose only Son

297.

ALMIGHTY God, whose only Son O'er sin and death the triumph won, And ever lives to intercede For souls who Thy sweet mercy need;

In His dear name to Thee we pray For all who err and go astray, For sinners, wheresoe'er they be, Who do not serve and honour Thee.

There are who never yet have heard The tidings of Thy blessed word, But still in heathen darkness dwell, Without one thought of heaven or hell;

And some within Thy sacred fold To holy things are dead and cold, And waste the precious hours of life In selfish ease, or toil, or strife;

And many a quickened soul within There lurks the secret love of sin, A wayward will, or anxious fears, Or lingering taint of bygone years.

O give repentance true and deep To all Thy lost and wandering sheep, And kindle in their hearts the fire Of holy love and pure desire.

That so from angel-hosts above May rise a sweeter song of love, And we, with all the blest, adore Thy name, O God, for evermore.

BEHOLD, the morning sun Begins his glorious way; His beams through all the nations run, And life and light convey.

But where the gospel comes, It spreads diviner light; It calls dead sinners from their tombs, And gives the blind their sight.

How perfect is Thy word, And all Thy judgments just! For ever sure Thy promise, Lord, And men securely trust.

While with my heart and tongue I spread Thy praise abroad, Accept the worship and the song, My Saviour and my God.

THE Lord my pasture shall prepare, And feed me with a shepherd's care; His presence shall my wants supply, And guard me with a watchful eye; My noonday walks He shall attend, And all my midnight hours defend.

When in the sultry glebe I faint, Or on the thirsty mountain pant, To fertile vales and dewy meads My weary wandering steps He leads, Where peaceful rivers, soft and slow, Amid the verdant landscape flow.

Though in a bare and rugged way
Through devious, lonely wilds I stray,
His bounty shall my pains beguile;
The barren wilderness shall smile
With sudden green and herbage crowned,
And streams shall murmur all around.

Though in the paths of death I tread With gloomy horrors overspread, My steadfast heart shall fear no ill, For Thou, O Lord, art with me still. Thy friendly crook shall give me aid, And guide me through the dreadful shade.

(PSALM XLVI.)

A TOWER of strength our God doth stand,
A Shield and sure Defender:
True help from all our woes His hand
Through life doth freely render.
Our foe hath fixed his purpose fell;
With might and craft he's armed full well;
Naught earthly can resist him.

Full soon we're lost, and vanquished quite,
Our strength hath naught effected:
Yet He for us maintains the fight,
Whom God Himself selected.
Ask ye His name? 'tis Christ our Lord,
The God of Hosts alone adored,
Our Champion—none dare brave Him.

Should hell's whole legions round us press
All banded to devour us,
Yet this should work us good success,
Nor fear e'en then o'erpower us:
Though this world's prince look fierce and bold,
It matters not, his doom is told,
A single word can foil him.

O GOD, our Help in ages past, Our Hope for years to come, Our Shelter from the stormy blast, And our eternal Home,

Under the shadow of Thy throne
Thy saints have dwelt secure:
Sufficient is Thine arm alone,
And our defence is sure.

Before the hills in order stood,
Or earth received her frame,
From everlasting Thou art God,
To endless years the same.

A thousand ages in Thy sight
Are like an evening gone,
Short as the watch that ends the night
Before the rising sun.

Time, like an ever-rolling stream, Bears all its sons away; They fly forgotten, as a dream Dies at the opening day.

(PSALM XCI.)

CALL Jehovah thy Salvation;
Rest beneath the Almighty's shade:
In His sacred habitation
Dwell, nor ever be dismayed.
There no tumult can alarm thee,
Thou shalt dread no hidden snare;
Guile nor violence can harm thee,
In eternal safeguard there.

From the sword at noonday wasting,
From the noisome pestilence
In the depth of midnight blasting,
God shall be thy sure defence:
Fear not thou the deadly quiver,
Though a thousand feel the blow;
Mercy shall thy soul deliver,
Though ten thousand be laid low.

If with pure and firm affection
Thou on God hast set thy love,
With the wings of His protection
He will shield thee from above:
Thou shalt call when griefs oppress thee;
He will hearken, He will save;
Here with special favour bless thee,
Give thee life beyond the grave.

309.

O LORD, how happy should we be If we could cast our care on Thee, If we from self could rest; And feel at heart that One above In perfect wisdom, perfect love, Is working for the best.

How far from this our daily life, How oft disturbed by anxious strife, By sudden wild alarms: O could we but relinquish all Our earthly props, and simply fall On Thine almighty arms!

Could we but kneel and cast our load, Even while we pray, upon our God, Then rise with lightened cheer, Sure that the Father, who is nigh To still the famished ravens' cry, Will hear in that we fear.

We cannot trust Him as we should;
So chafes weak nature's restless mood
To cast its peace away;
But birds and flowerets round us preach,
All, all the present evil teach
Sufficient for the day.

Lord, make these faithless hearts of ours
Such lessons learn from birds and flowers,
Make them from self to cease,
Leave all things to a Father's will,
And taste, before Him lying still,
Even in affliction, peace.

JOSEPH ANSTICE, 1836.

GLORIOUS things of thee are spoken,
Zion, city of our God:
He whose word cannot be broken,
Formed thee for His own abode:
On the Rock of Ages founded,
What can shake thy sure repose?
With salvation's walls surrounded,
Thou mayst smile at all thy foes.

Blest are all in Thee abiding,
Washed from sin through Jesu's blood:
He, within their hearts residing,
Makes them kings and priests to God
'Tis His power His people raises
Over self to reign as kings;
And, as priests, his solemn praises
Each for a thankoffering brings.

Round each habitation hovering
See the cloud and fire appear,
For a glory and a covering,
Showing that the Lord is near.
Thus they march, the pillar leading,
Light by night and shade by day;
Daily on the manna feeding
Which He gives them when they pray.

311.

WE saw Thee not, when Thou didst tread,
O Saviour, this our sinful earth,
Nor heard Thy voice restore the dead,
And wake them to a second birth:
But we believe that Thou didst come,
And quit for us Thy glorious home.

We were not with the faithful few
Who stood Thy bitter cross around,
Nor heard the prayer for those who slew,
Nor felt that earthquake rock the ground;
We saw no spear-wound pierce Thy side:
Yet we believe that Thou hast died.

No angel's message met our ear
On that first glorious Easter-day;
"The Lord is risen, He is not here;
Come, see the place where Jesus lay:"
But we believe that Thou didst quell
The banded powers of death and hell.

We saw Thee not return on high;
And now, our longing sight to bless,
No ray of glory from the sky
Shines down upon our wilderness:
Yet we believe that Thou art there,
And seek Thee, Lord, in praise and prayer.

JOHN H. GURNEY and HENRY J. BUCKOLL, 1843, based on a hymn by Anne Richter, 1884.

LEAD, kindly Light, amid the encircling gloom, Lead Thou me on.

The night is dark, and I am far from home; Lead Thou me on.

Keep Thou my feet; I do not ask to see The distant scene; one step enough for me.

I was not ever thus, nor prayed that Thou Shouldst lead me on:

I loved to choose and see my path; but now Lead Thou me on.

I loved the garish day, and, spite of fears, Pride ruled my will: remember not past years.

So long Thy power hath blest me, sure it still Will lead me on

O'er moor and fen, o'er crag and torrent, till
The night is gone,

And with the morn those angel-faces smile Which I have loved long since, and lost awhile.

WHO follows Christ whate'er betide, Is worthy of a soldier's name; Is He thy Way, thy Light, thy Guide? 'Tis meet thou also bear His shame: Who shrinks from dark Gethsemane, Shall Tabor's glories never see.

What profits it that Christ hath deigned Our mortal form and flesh to wear, If we ourselves have ne'er attained His image formed in us to bear? The pure and virgin soul alone He chooseth for His earthly throne.

What profits it that Christ is born,
And bringeth childhood back to men,
Unless our long-lost right we mourn,
And win through penitence again,
And lead a God-like life on earth,
As children of the second birth?

What profits it that He is risen,
If dead in sins thou yet dost lie?
If yet thou cleavest to thy prison,
What profit that He dwells on high?
His triumph will avail thee naught,
If thou hast ne'er the battle fought.

Then live and suffer, do and bear,
As Christ, thy Pattern, here hath done;
And seek His innocence to wear,
That He may count thee of His own.
Who loveth Christ cares but to win
New triumphs o'er the world of sin.

Translation by CATHERINE WINEWORTH, 1855, of a German hymn ascribed to J. G. Wolff, d. 1754.

THY way, not mine, O Lord, However dark it be; Lead me by Thine own hand, Choose out the path for me.

Smooth let it be or rough,
It will be still the best:
Winding or straight, it leads
Right onward to Thy rest.

The kingdom that I seek
Is Thine; so let the way
That leads to it be Thine;
Else I must surely stray.

Take Thou my cup, and it
With joy or sorrow fill,
As best to Thee may seem;
Choose Thou my good and ill.

Choose Thou for me my friends, My sickness or my health; Choose Thou my cares for me, My poverty or wealth.

Not mine, not mine the choice, In things or great or small; Be Thou my Guide, my Strength, My Wisdom, and my All.

As Jesus hungered then!

The cross that Jesus carried
He carried as your due:
The crown that Jesus weareth
He weareth it for you.

The faith by which ye see Him,
The hope in which ye yearn,
The love that through all troubles
To Him alone will turn,

What are they but His couriers To lead you to His sight? What are they save the effluence Of uncreated Light?

The trials that beset you,
The sorrows ye endure,
The manifold temptations
That death alone can cure,

What are they but His jewels Of right celestial worth? What are they but the ladder Set up to heaven on earth?

O happy band of pilgrims, Look upward to the skies, Where such a light affliction Shall win so great a prize.

Though, like the wanderer,

Darkness be over me,
My rest a stone;
Yet in my dreams I'd be
Nearer, my God, to Thee,
Nearer to Thee.

There let the way appear Steps unto heaven; All that Thou sendest me In mercy given; Angels to beckon me Nearer, my God, to Thee, Nearer to Thee.

Then, with my waking thoughts
Bright with Thy praise,
Out of my stony griefs

THERE is no sorrow, Lord, too light
To bring in prayer to Thee;
There is no anxious care too slight
To wake Thy sympathy.

Wilt share each small distress;
The Love which bore the greater load
Will not refuse the less.

There is no secret sigh we breathe
But meets Thine ear divine,
And every cross grows light beneath

"STAY, Master, stay; upon this heavenly hill A little longer let us linger still; With these two mighty ones of old beside, Near to the awful Presence still abide: Before the throne of light we trembling stand, And catch a glimpse into the spirit-land.

Stay, Master, stay! we breathe a purer air;
This life is not the life that waits us there;
Thoughts, feelings, flashes, glimpses, come and go
We cannot speak them—nay, we do not know:
Wrapt in this cloud of light, we seem to be
The thing we fain would grow, eternally."

"No!" saith the Lord, "the hour is past; we go: Our home, our life, our duties lie below.
While here we kneel upon the mount of prayer,
The plough lies waiting in the furrow there:
Here we sought God that we might know His will,
There we must do it—serve Him, seek Him still.

If man aspires to reach the throne of God,
O'er the dull plains of earth must lie the road.
He who best does his lowly duty here,
Shall mount the highest in a nobler sphere:
At God's own feet our spirits seek their rest,
And he is nearest Him who serves Him best."

I HEARD the voice of Jesus say,
"Come unto Me and rest;
Lay down, thou weary one, kay down
Thy head upon My breast."
I came to Jesus as I was,
Weary and worn and sad;
I found in Him a resting-place,
And He has made me glad.

I heard the voice of Jesus say,
"Behold, I freely give
The living water; thirsty one,
Stoop down and drink and live."
I came to Jesus, and I drank
Of that life-giving stream;
My thirst was quenched, my soul revived,
And now I live in Him.

I heard the voice of Jesus say,
"I am this dark world's Light;
Look unto Me, thy morn shall rise,
And all thy day be bright."
I looked to Jesus, and I found
In Him my Star, my Sun;
And in that Light of life I'll walk

SCOTCH PSALTER, 1635.

GOD moves in a mysterious way His wonders to perform; He plants His footsteps in the sea, And rides upon the storm.

Deep in unfathomable mines
Of never-failing skill
He treasures up His bright designs,
And works His sovereign will.

Ye fearful saints, fresh courage take:
The clouds ye so much dread
Are big with mercy, and shall break
In blessings on your head.

Judge not the Lord by feeble sense, But trust Him for His grace: Behind a frowning providence He hides a smiling face.

His purposes will ripen fast, Unfolding every hour: The bud may have a bitter taste, But sweet will be the flower.

Blind unbelief is sure to err, And scan His work in vain: God is His own interpreter, And He will make it plain.

I am bewildered on my way;Dark and tempestuous is the night;O send Thou forth some cheering ray:Thou art my Light.

I hear the storms around me rise;
But when I dread the impending shock,
My spirit to the refuge flies:
Thou art my Rock.

When Satan flings his fiery darts,
I look to Thee—my terrors cease;
Thy cross a hiding-place imparts:
Thou art my Peace.

Thou wilt my every want supply, E'en to the end, whate'er befall; Through life, in death, eternally, Thou art my All.

GO to dark Gethsemane,
Ye that feel the Tempter's power;
Your Redeemer's conflict see,
Watch with Him one bitter hour;
Turn not from His griefs away;
Learn of Jesus Christ to pray.

Follow to the judgment-hall,
View the Lord of life arraigned;
O the wormwood and the gall!
O the pangs His soul sustained!
Shun not suffering, shame, or loss;
Learn of Him to bear the cross.

Calvary's mournful mountain climb;
There, adoring at His feet,
Mark that miracle of time,
God's own sacrifice complete.
"It is finished," hear Him cry;
Learn of Jesus Christ to die.

Early hasten to the tomb

Where they laid His breathless clay:
All is solitude and gloom;

Who hath taken Him away?

Christ is risen; He meets our eyes;

Saviour, teach us so to rise.

CITY of God, how broad and far Outspread thy walls sublime! The true thy chartered freemen are, Of every age and clime.

One holy church, one army strong,
One steadfast, high intent,
One voice to raise one harvest-song,
One King Omnipotent!

How gleam thy watchfires through the night, With never-fainting ray! How rise thy towers, serene and bright, To meet the dawning day!

In vain the surge's angry shock, In vain the drifting sands; Unharmed, upon the eternal Rock The eternal city stands!

JESU, Lover of my soul,
Let me to Thy bosom fly,
While the nearer waters roll,
While the tempest still is high.
Hide me, O my Saviour, hide,
Till the storm of life be past;
Safe into the haven guide,
O receive my soul at last.

Other refuge have I none;
Hangs my helpless soul on Thee;
Leave, O leave me not alone;
Still support and comfort me.
All my hope on Thee is stayed;
All my help from Thee I bring:
Cover my defenceless head
With the shadow of Thy wing.

Plenteous grace with Thee is found,
Grace to cover all my sin:

Let the healing streams abound:
Make and keep me pure within.

Thou of life the Fountain art,
Freely let me take of Thee;

Spring Thou up within my heart,
Rise to all eternity.

While all around him waves the golden grain,
And every servant hears the Master say
"Go, work to-day"?

Come, labour on:
The enemy is watching night and day,
To sow the tares, to snatch the seed away:
While we in sleep our duty have forgot,
He slumbered not.

Come, labour on:
Away with gloomy doubt and faithless fear!
No arm so weak but may do service here;
By feeblest agents can our God fulfil
His righteous will.

Come, labour on:
No time for rest, till glows the western sky,
While the long shadows o'er our pathway lie,
And a glad sound comes with the setting sun,
"Servants, well done"!

LABOUR ever, late and early,
Thou that strivest for the crown:
Hard the Christian battle: dearly
Wins the warrior his renown.
None but he, the faithful-hearted,
Victor from the field hath parted;
None but he whose love is strong
Sings at last the triumph-song.

Thou hast conquered, Lord of glory;
Satan's power was foiled by Thee:
Calvary, with its awful story,
Shows Thy crowning victory.
Death by dying was defeated,
Life in losing life completed,
When the Sufferer bowed His head,
Saying, "It is finished."

O mysterious scene! O wonder
High above our mortal ken!
Lost in love and awe we ponder
Him, the Man who died for men;
Him who drained the cup of anguish,
Not in rocky tomb to languish,
But on angel-wings to rise
To His triumph in the skies.

What are human toil and sadness
To that hour of deadly strife?
What to that eternal gladness
Fleeting joys of earthly life?
Live with Him, thyself denying;
Die with Him, the cross defying;
Rise with Him, and, throned on high,
Sing the song of victory!

O JESU, Thou art standing
Outside the fast-closed door,
In lowly patience waiting
To pass the threshold o'er:
Shame on us, Christian brothers,
His name and sign who bear,
O shame, thrice shame, upon us,
To keep Him standing there!

O Jesu, Thou art knocking:
And lo! that hand is scarred,
And thorns Thy brow encircle,
And tears Thy face have marred.
O love that passeth knowledge,

So patiently to wait!
O sin that hath no equal,
So fast to bar the gate!

O Jesu, Thou art pleading
In accents meek and low,
"I died for you, My children,
And will ye treat me so?"
O Lord, with shame and sorrow
We open now the door:

Dear Saviour, enter, enter, And leave us never more.

With the cross of Jesus
Going on before.

Leads against the foe;
Forward into battle,
See, His banners go.
Onward, Christian soldiers, &c.

Like a mighty army
Moves the church of God.
Brothers, we are treading
Where the saints have trod.
We are not divided,
All one body we,
One in hope and doctrine,
One in charity.
Onward, Christian soldiers, &c.

Crowns and thrones may perish,
Kingdoms rise and wane;
But the church of Jesus
Constant will remain:
Gates of hell can never
'Gainst that church prevail:
We have Christ's own promise,
And that cannot fail.
Onward, Christian soldiers, &c.

Onward, then, ye people,
Join our happy throng,
Blend with ours your voices
In the triumph-song:
Glory, laud and honour
Unto Christ the King;
This through countless ages
Men and angels sing.

Let your drooping hearts be glad; March, in heavenly armour clad; Fight, nor think the battle long; Soon shall victory wake your song.

Let not sorrow dim your eye; Soon shall every tear be dry; Let not fears your course impede; Great your strength, if great your need.

Warms with the breath of love;
Where faith bids fear depart,
City of God, thou art.

Themselves in perfect peace.

Where He is in the heart,

THOUGH lowly here our lot may be, High work have we to do; In faith, O Lord, to follow Thee, Whose lot was lowly too.

Our days of darkness may we bear, Strong in our Father's love: We lean on His almighty arm, And fix our hopes above.

Our lives enriched with gentle thoughts

The nearer to the sea.

To duty firm, to conscience true,
However tried and pressed,
In God's clear sight high work we do,

Oft from Thee we veil our faces,
Children-like to cheat Thine eyes;
Sin, and hope to hide the traces;
From ourselves ourselves disguise:
'Neath the webs we've woven round us
Thy soul-piercing glance has found us.

Sudden, midst our idle chorus,
O'er our sin Thy thunders roll;
Death his signal waves before us;
Night and terror take the soul;
Till through double darkness round us
Looks a star, and Thou hast found us.

O most merciful, most holy,
Light Thy wanderers on their way;
Keep us ever Thine, Thine wholly,
Suffer us no more to stray.

THROUGH the night of doubt and sorrow Onward goes the pilgrim band, Singing songs of expectation, Marching to the promised land.

Clear before us through the darkness Gleams and burns the guiding light: Brother clasps the hand of brother, Stepping fearless through the night.

One the light of God's own presence, O'er His ransomed people shed, Chasing far the gloom and terror, Brightening all the path we tread;

One the object of our journey,
One the faith which never tires,
One the earnest looking forward,
One the hope our God inspires;

One the strain that lips of thousands Lift as from the heart of one; One the conflict, one the peril, One the march in God begun;

One the gladness of rejoicing On the far eternal shore, Where the one almighty Father Reigns in love for evermore.

Onward, therefore, pilgrim brothers, Onward, with the cross our aid; Bear its shame, and fight its battle, Till we rest beneath its shade.

Soon shall come the great awaking; Soon the rending of the tomb; Then the scattering of all shadows, And the end of toil and gloom.

O, my spirit longs and faints
For the converse of Thy saints,
For the brightness of Thy face,
For Thy fulness, God of grace.

Happy birds that sing and fly Round Thy altars, O Most High! Happier souls that find a rest In a heavenly Father's breast! Like the wandering dove that found No repose on earth around, They can to their ark repair, And enjoy it ever there.

Happy souls, their praises flow Even in this vale of woe; Waters in the desert rise, Manna feeds them from the skies; On they go from strength to strength, Till they reach Thy throne at length, At Thy feet adoring fall, Who hast led them safe through all.

Lord, be mine this prize to win; Guide me through a world of sin, Keep me by Thy saving grace, Give me at Thy side a place. Sun and Shield alike Thou art, Guide and guard my erring heart: Grace and glory flow from Thee; Shower, O shower them, Lord, on me.

And streets of shining gold?

There happier bowers than Eden's bloom,
Nor sin nor sorrow know:
Blest seats, through rude and stormy scenes
I onward press to you.

Why should I shrink from pain and woe, Or feel at death dismay? I've Canaan's goodly land in view, And realms of endless day.

All jubilant with song,
And bright with many an angel,
And all the martyr-throng.

There everlasting spring abides, And never-withering flowers: Death, like a narrow sea, divides This heavenly land from ours.

Sweet fields beyond the swelling flood Stand dressed in living green: So to the Jews old Canaan stood, While Jordan rolled between.

But timorous mortals start and shrink To cross this narrow sea, And linger shivering on the brink, And fear to launch away.

O could we make our doubts remove, Those gloomy doubts that rise, And see the Canaan that we love With unbeclouded eyes;

Could we but climb where Moses stood,
And view the landscape o'er,
Not Jordan's stream, nor death's cold flood,
Should fright us from the shore.

ISAAC WATTS, 1707.

WHO shall ascend to the holy place, And stand on the holy hill? Who shall the boundless realms of space With shouts of rapture thrill? Hallelujah! For the Lord God omnipotent reigneth.

The servants of the Lord are they, The pure in heart and hand, For whom the eternal bars give way, The eternal gates expand.

Hallelujah!

For the Lord God omnipotent reigneth.

Not to the noble, not to the strong, To the wealthy, or the wise, Is given a part in that angel-song, That music of the skies. Hallelujah!

For the Lord God omnipotent reigneth.

But those who in humble and holy fear, With childlike faith and love, Have served the Lord as their Master here. Shall praise their Lord above. Hallelujah!

For the Lord God omnipotent reigneth.

And chiefly those who in youth to Him Their morn of life have given, With Cherubim and Seraphim, And all the host of heaven— Hallelujah!

For the Lord God omnipotent reigneth—

Shall stand in robes of purest white, And to the Lamb shall raise The song that rests not day or night, The eternity of praise.

Hallelujah!

For the Lord God omnipotent reigneth.

357.

SWEET is Thy mercy, Lord:
Before Thy mercy-seat
Our souls adoring plead Thy word,
And own Thy mercy sweet.

Where'er Thy name is blest, Where'er Thy people meet, There we delight in Thee to rest, And find Thy mercy sweet.

Light Thou our weary way,
Lead Thou our wandering feet,
That while we stay on earth, we may
Still find Thy mercy sweet.

CHILDREN of the heavenly King, As ye journey, sweetly sing; Sing your Saviour's worthy praise, Glorious in His works and ways.

We are travelling home to God, In the way the fathers trod: They are happy now; and we Soon their happiness shall see.

Lift your eyes, ye sons of light; Zion's city is in sight: There our Lord we soon shall see.

Fear not, brethren; joyful stand On the borders of your land; Christ, the everlasting Son, Bids you undismayed go on.

Lord, obediently we go, Gladly leaving all below: Only Thou our Leader be, And we still will follow Thee.

359.

ART thou weary, art thou languid,
Art thou sore distrest?
"Come to Me," saith One, "and coming
Be at rest."

Hath He marks to lead me to Him,
If He be my Guide?
"In His feet and hands are wound-prints,
And His side."

Is there diadem, as Monarch,
That His brow adorns?
"Yea, a crown, in very surety,
But of thorns."

If I find Him, if I follow,
What His guerdon here?
"Many a sorrow, many a labour,
Many a tear."

Many a tear."

If I still hold closely to Him,

What hath He at last?
"Sorrow vanquished, labour ended,
Jordan past."
If I ask Him to receive me,
Will He say me nay?

"Not till earth, and not till heaven Pass away."

Finding, following, keeping, struggling,
Is He sure to bless?
"Saints, apostles, prophets, martyrs,
Answer Yes."

J. M. NEALE, 1862, based upon the Greek of St. Stephen the Sabaite, d. 794.

THE church's one foundation
Is Jesus Christ her Lord;
She is His new creation
By water and the word:
From heaven He came and sought her
To be His holy bride,
With His own blood He bought her,
And for her life He died.

Elect from every nation,
Yet one o'er all the earth,
Her charter of salvation
One Lord, one faith, one birth,
One holy name she blesses,
Partakes one holy food,
And to one hope she presses
With every grace endued.

'Mid toil and tribulation
And tumult of her war,
She waits the consummation
Of peace for evermore;
Till with the vision glorious
Her longing eyes are blest,
And the great church victorious
Shall be the church at rest.

Yet she on earth hath union
With God the Three in One,
And mystic sweet communion
With those whose rest is won.
O happy ones and holy!
Lord, give us grace that we,
Like them, the meek and lowly,
On high may dwell with Thee.

Soldiers, who are Christ's below,

SOLDIERS, who are Christ's below, Strong in faith resist the foe: Boundless is the pledged reward Unto them who serve the Lord.

'Tis no palm of fading leaves
That the conqueror's hand receives:
Joys are his serene and pure,
Light that ever shall endure.

For the souls that overcome
Waits the beauteous heavenly home,
Where the blessed evermore
Tread on high the starry floor.

Passing soon and little worth Are the things that tempt on earth: Heavenward lift thy soul's regard: God Himself is thy reward.

Father, who the crown dost give, Saviour, by whose death we live, Spirit, who our hearts dost raise, Three in One, Thy name we praise.

Translation by John H. Clark, 1865, from the Latin of the Chalons-sur-Marne Breviary, 1786.

JESU dulcis memoria, Dans vera cordi gaudia, Sed super mel et omnia Ejus dulcis praesentia.

Nil canitur suävius, Nil auditur jucundius, Nil cogitatur dulcius, Quam Jesus Dei Filius.

Jesu, spes paenitentibus, Quam pius es petentibus, Quam bonus Te quaerentibus! Sed quid invenientibus?

Jesu dulcedo cordium, Fons veri, lumen mentium, Excedens omne gaudium Et omne desiderium.

Nec lingua valet dicere Nec litera exprimere, Expertus potest credere, Quid sit Jesum diligere.

Jesu, the very thought of Thee,

Rev. J. B. DYKES.

363,

JESU, the very thought of Thee With sweetness fills the breast; But sweeter far Thy face to see, And in Thy presence rest.

Nor voice can sing, nor heart can frame, Nor can the memory find A sweeter sound than Thy blest name, O Saviour of mankind.

O Hope of every contrite heart,
O Joy of all the meek,
To those who fall how kind Thou art!
How good to those who seek!

But what to those who find? Ah! this
Nor tongue nor pen can show:
The love of Jesus, what it is,
None but His loved ones know.

Jesu! our only Joy be Thou,
As Thou our Prize wilt be:
In Thee be all our glory now,
And through eternity.

Translation of the preceding, by EDWARD CASWALL, 1849.

Anthem.

364.

COMES, at times, a stillness as of even,
Steeping the soul in memories of love,
As when the glow is sinking out of heaven,
As when the twilight deepens in the grove.
Comes, at length, a sound of many voices,
As when the waves break lightly on the shore,
As when at dawn the feathered choir rejoices,
Singing aloud because the night is o'er.

Comes, at times, a voice of days departed,
Upon the dying breath of evening borne;
Sinks then the traveller, faint and weary-hearted,
Long is the way, it whispers, and forlorn.
Comes, at last, a voice of thrilling gladness,
Borne on the breezes of the rising day;
Saying, the Lord shall make an end of sadness,
Saying, the Lord shall wipe all tears away.

ISAAC GREGORY SMITH, circ. 1857.
